AMBASSADOR WILSON SAYS U. S. COULDN'T FILL MEDIATOR ROLE

Impossible Because Mexican Federal Government Wouldn't Entertain Such a Suggestion, He Declares

AMBASSADOR TO SUGGEST PLAN FOR UNITED STATES

He Refuses to Intimate, However, What Views He Holds on Matter—Plans to Hurry Back to His Mexican Post

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson on his arrival here for conferences on the Mexican situation with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, announce he had prepared a memorandum suggesting the policy the American government should pursue. While declining to divulge its nature until he had submitted his views to the president and Mr. Bryan, the ambassador characterized as impracticable proposals by an American commission.

Ambassador Wilson said he expected to return to Mexico City by the steamer sailing next Thursday from New York. As to his conferences with the officials here, he understood, he added, that he merely was to transmit information on the situation and resented the suggestion frequently made in the newspapers that he would be called to account for his personal acts.

"I recognize that the president and secretary have a right, however," he said, "to question me about anything."

The ambassador described his treatment by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan hitherto as courteous in every respect except one—the sending of separate agents to investigate conditions in Mexico. He severely criticised both William Bayard Hale and Reginald Del valle, whom he declared were acting for the administration there.

PROBE CODE DISTRIBUTION.

"I don't think Mr. Delvalle should have been given the state department code," said the ambassador. "I know he had it because he went to the secretary of our legation in Havana to get help in deciphering it. Indeed, I believe the senate committee might investigate the distribution of the state department code to private individuals."

The ambassador said he had every disposition to carry out the wishes of the president and Secretary Bryan. Mediation, however, he looked upon as impossible because the Mexican—federal government would not entertain such a suggestion.

"I regard mediation," he added, "as venturing on dangerous seas."

Mr. Wilson took vehement issue in his criticism of the constitutionalists and the Madero family.

"The Madero family," asserted the ambassador, "have maintained a paid bureau in Washington to poison the public mind. As to the rebels, there really is no question in Sonora. Where there is an organized government. Elsewhere there are bandits."

The ambassador was asked about Cabanillas, where Governor Carranza is in charge of the constitutionalist cause.

"There are bandits in Coahuila, too," he answered. "The question is not to say that Carranza is a bandit, but in order to keep his men together he has to allow them to loot and they therefore become bandits."

Mr. Wilson suggested that hardly any one in Washington really understood the Mexican situation and the characteristics of Latin peoples.

LIKE CHILDREN'S DRIBBLINGS.

"Some of the proposals I have heard," he remarked, "sound like the dribblings of mere children. For instance, the proposal to have foreign powers from Central and South America act with us in mediating the trouble in Mexico. Why, that would be an overthrow of the principles of the Monroe doctrine, and the Mexicans would resent that interference. I know this proposal was once made by John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American union. Mr. Barrett and I are personal friends, and I have great respect for him, but I don't think much of that suggestion."

The ambassador met Mrs. Henry Lane Wilson and his two sons, who had preceded him to Washington just how soon he would finish his conferences, he said.

"I'll certainly hurry them," and then he added with a laugh, "I understand from the newspapers that my presence in Washington is costing Mr. Bryan $2,000 a day losing his secret engagements. Well, I must be an expensive visitor."

After he had breakfasted Ambassador Wilson hurried to the state department, where Secretary Bryan was waiting. President Wilson had gone off to play golf.

CONFERENCE WITH BRYAN.

At the end of a half hour's conference with the ambassador, Secretary Bryan, saying the talk would be continued at 3 o'clock this afternoon, hurried to the capitol to meet the foreign relations committee. He said he would only discuss the Nicaraguan treaty there.

Secretary Bryan would make no announcement of his conference with the ambassador further than to say that Mr. Wilson had made a preliminary report.

Mr. Bryan was asked about the statement that Delvalle had been furnished with a copy of the state department code, but beyond saying he never had mentioned that Delvalle was an agent of the state department, he refused to discuss the question.

Ambassador Wilson, however, received the correspondents in Mr. Bryan's office. While he was questioned Secretary Bryan's private secretary made a stenographic record of the interview, which turned out to be not at all illuminating on the situation further than alleging from the ambassador a denial of the statement that he had been asked to prepare a report on the mediation proposition. The ambassador spent the great part of the day going over copies of his previous reports to the state department.

It was determined that Ambassador Wilson will not confer with the press.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., HEARS A. B. & A. IS BOUGHT BY I. C.

Rumor Current to Effect That Illinois Central Is Trying to Get Direct Entrance Into Florida City

LEGALLY, ROAD CAN'T BE SOLD UNTIL AUG. 1

Officers of A. B. & A. Deny Knowledge of Reported Sale. Louisville and Nashville Said to Be Planning Purchase

A dispatch from Jacksonville, Fla., says that there is a rumor current in that city that the Atlanta Birmingham and Atlantic railroad has been bought by the Illinois Central railroad in order that the latter line might have a direct entrance into Jaksonville.

An effort was made Saturday morning to locate E. T. Lamb, general manager of the A. B. & A., and H. M. Atkinson, one of the receivers in Atlanta; but it was said that both of them were out of the city. Officials in the A. B. & A. office denied any knowledge of the reported sale.

The A. B. & A. was ordered sold several weeks ago by Judge Don Pardee, the sale to take place at auction some time after August 1. Under the law the road cannot be sold until the date of auction, but it is very possible that the Illinois Central is dickering with the A. B. & A. officials to get first call at that time.

It also is rumored that the Louisville and Nashville railroad wishes to purchase the A. B. & A.

SOUTHERN TRAINS MEET IN HEAD-ON CRASH AT HOLTON

Negro Porter Killed; E. G. Shackleford Injured, Possibly Fatally, and Both Engineers Painfully Hurt

CONFUSION OF PORTER WAS CAUSE OF WRECK

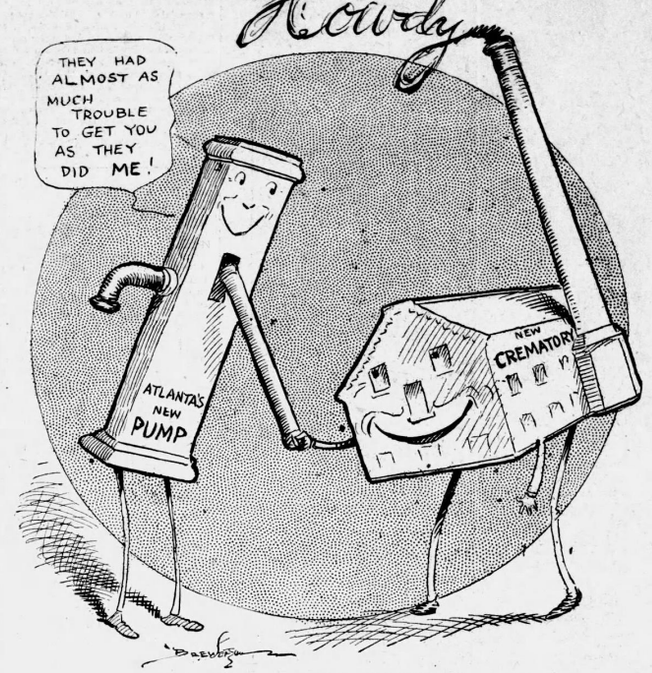
Negro Failed to Close Switch and Passenger Sped Onto Wrong Track and Into Another Train—Wreck Cleared

Because a negro porter became confused two Southern railway passenger trains, one going at thirty miles an hour, the other standing on a siding, met in a head-on collision near Holton, Ga., early Saturday.

The porter, Will Jackson, was the only person killed; one passenger, E. G. Shackleford, aged twenty-five years, of Mount Erie, O., was hurt seriously, and the engineers of both trains, Liddell and Jennings, both of Atlanta, were badly shaken up and bruised. None of the others was reported badly enough hurt to need hospital attention. The injured immediately were placed on a fast train bound for Atlanta.

Jackson was porter on train No. 14, southbound, and it was his duty after the southbound train went into the siding to close the switch and allow No. 15, northbound, to pass by. According to a report made to Superintendent E. E. Norris, of Atlanta, Jackson carried out the first part of his duty, opening the switch for the southbound train, but upon looking up he saw the northbound train bearing down upon him and lost his head completely. He failed to close the switch, says the report, and in his terror ran in front of one of the trains and was ground to death.

Railway men consider it almost miraculous that the results of the accident are no worse. The wreck was cleared and traffic resumed in three hours.



WELCOME TO OUR CITY

DEFEAT DAMPENS ARDOR OF REVOLTING CHINESE

Foreigners Disapprove Landing of Japanese Marines at Fu Chow

(By Associated Press.)

FU CHOW, China, July 26.—The defeat of the southern revolutionary troops at Shanghai seems to have dampened the ardor of the people of the province. Kiang Kiu, who sympathized strongly with the rebel movement, but now seem inclined to remain passive unless the southerners achieve an important military success.

War is generally deprecated, but there is a small minority of the more youthful and hotheaded element which clamors for redress of its grievances.

When some of the military were withdrawn from this city on Sunday a detachment of Japanese mariens was ordered ashore. In the foreign colonies there the general opinion prevailed that the landing of these marines was unnecessary.

A strict censorship has been imposed on outgoing telegrams as well as upon the newspapers.

The five-colored republican flag continues to float over the municipal government offices, but the flagstaffs over the forts are bare.

Foreigners at Kuh-Ling Ask for Naval Guard

(By Associated Press.)

HANKOW, July 26.—Urgent appeals were received today from the foreigners residing in Kuh-Ling for a naval guard. There are over 2,000 of them there, mostly women and children. The authorities have not taken any action.

The northern forces, according to a dispatch from Kiu-Kiang, started a general advance yesterday and the rebels retreated before them in confusion. A column of northern soldiers crossed the Yang-Tse-Kiang and captured Oliphant island, from which position they began shelling the Pu-Kow forts.

Dispatch Says Northern Force Takes Fu Chow

(By Associated Press.)

ST. PETERSBURG, July 26.—A dispatch from Shanghai says it is officially announced there that the city of Fu Chow has fallen into the hands of the northern forces and the garrisons of the forts at Wu Sung also have joined them.

NEW CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETY IS FLOURISHING

At th ement meeting R. S. Woodson is to be leader. The subject of this meeting will be "Information," and it is the first of a series of four meetings on "Missionary Essentials at Home and Abroad."

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CLAYTON, Ga., July 26.—Mr. Andrew Hunnicutt, who had been in feeble health for several months, died at his home near Mountain City, three miles from here, last night at 7 o'clock.

PEACEFUL SUFFRAGETTES MARCH ON LONDON TOWN

Great Pilgrimage of Non-Militants, Similar to Those in America

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, July 26.—Many thousand non-militant suffr gettes paraded London this morning as a preliminary to a great service in St. Paul's Cathedral and a subsequent demonstration in Hyde park. The suffragettes, in emulation of their American sisters whose march to Washington to influence legislation favorable to the suffrage cause, attracted much attention, converging on London along the five great roads which end at the mansion house, center of the British world.

Every constituency in the court sent representatives. The small detachments of "suffragettes" which originally started from Land's End and John-O-Great's—the two uttermost limits of the island—were augmented on the way until they formed great columns.

The women started out on June 18. They were cordially received in all parts of the country, college professors and other men speaking at their meetings.

At the road the trade unionists gave proof of their loyalty to the women by forming an escort for a speaker who was addressing a hostile audience.

The vanguard entered the march and when the women reached London they made a triumphal entry.

INSURANCE COS. NOW MAY EXAMINE PAINTER ORGANS

Baltimore Court Rules They Are Entitled to Independent Analysis of the Viscera

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 26.—The insurance companies have won their first important battle in the contest over the payment of the insurance on the life of the late E. G. Painter, who carried $1,178,000 on his life, as the circuit court at Baltimore has decided that the insurance companies are entitled to make an independent chemical analysis and pathological examination of the viscera of the dead man which had been denied them by the legal representatives of the widow and the Painter company.

Judge Duffy, acording to a telegram today, granted the application of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company for such an examination. Mrs. Painter appealed and the case will be heard at the October term of the court of appeals of Maryland.

In the meantime the brain and the viscera will remain in the vault of the county clerk there. Representatives of the Painter family here decline to comment on the case.

AMERICAN TEAM WINS FIRST DOUBLES MATCH

They Have to Win Only One Match Monday to Land the Cup

(By Associated Press.)

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 26.—By winning today the doubles matches in the series for the Davis cup, the American lawn tennis challengers, McLoughlin and Hackett, placed the United States team ahead in the series of five matches. They won the singles match and a doubles match, while the Englishmen took one singles match. To win the cup the Americans need to win only one match of the two to be played Monday.

McLoughlin and Hackett were considered by experts a weak combination as compared with Barrett and Dixon at the beginning of today's match. But the young Californian, by his brilliant play, made up for the deficiencies of his partner and carried off the match after a hard fight in sensational fashion by three sets to two.

The scores were 5-7, 6-1, 2-6, 7-5 and 6-4.

In the fourth set, while making a violent smash, McLoughlin broke his racket and lost a point, which brought England within one point of the set and the match. Then on his own service, with a new racket, he brought the game even. A terrific smash and a hurtling service gave the game to the Americans, placing them out of danger at five games all. Hackett at this point began to give a good account of himself and two double faults by Dixon gave the Americans the lead. They won the set smoothly on Hackett's service.

Chattanooga Sees A Real Slit Skirt

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 26.—The slit skirt has now made its appearance in Chattanooga. Downtown shoppers and pedestrians were given a terrible thrill yesterday when a demure maiden paraded the principal streets of the retail district in the new semi-bifurcated raiment with all its extreme exposure.

Policemen looked askance, no official comment was made.

RESIGNATION NOT ASKED, SAYS POSTMASTER M'KEE

Postmaster Hugh L. McKee on his return Friday from New York and Washington said the first he had heard of his resignation being wanted at Washington was what he had seen in an Atlanta paper.

He added, however, that he was ready to resign as soon as the department officially advised him that his resignation was wanted.

Mr. McKee said he was at the post-office department in Washington, and not only received courteous treatment there, but he had told what the Atlanta office needs. His suggestions, he said, had been given most careful attention. At no time was there an intimation that his resignation was desired.

RUSSIA AUTHORIZED TO DRIVE THE TURKS BACK

Powers Will Not Let Ottoman Soldiers Go Beyond Enos-Midia Line

Bulgarian Mothers Appeal To the French Minister

(By Associated Press.)

SOFIA, July 26.—The French minister here was requested today by the Bulgarian women in Philippopolis, eastern Rumella, to send the following telegram to President and Mme. Poincare:

"Bulgarian mothers, whose sons are on the battlefield, implore Madame and Monsieur Poincare with tears in their eyes *to save us from the Turkish mas*sacres which threaten Philippopolis. Your intervention is our last hope. Accept our sincere thanks and gratitude."

Dedeagatch Falls Into Hands of Greek Fleet

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 26.—Peace delegates of Servia, Greece and Montenegro will arrive here on Monday, when they will be joined by Premier Venizelos of Greece and the Bulgarian premiers.

Bulgarians Victorious Over Servian Troops

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, July 26.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Bucharest, timed 9 o'clock Firday night, says:

"News has been received from Sofia of a terrific battle between Servians and Bulgarians near Tsarevoselo, on the river Brogalnitza, in which the Bulgarians were victorious. The Greeks helped the Servians, whose casualties were 10,000. It is probable the story is greatly exaggerated."

A dispatch to the Post from Bucharest says that owing to the appeal of the king of Rumania the Servians and Greeks have suspended their forward movement.

Austrian Representatives Want to Stop War

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, July 26.—The important devlopment today in the Balkan situation was a demand presented by the Austrian representatives at Athens and Belgrade for an immediate cessation of hostilities together with a warning that Austria will not allow Bulgaria to be too greatly humiliated.

It was declared in Vienna last night that should Greece and Servia still oppose an armistice a Rumanian army acting as a mandatory of Austria and Russia, will prevent any attack on Sofia and that Austria will take even more energetic steps if necessary to stop the war.

Should it be true that Austria and Russia thus have agreed to co-operate the pressure exercised doubtless will be effective.

In military circles here the principal news is that the Servians have invested the ancient fortress at Vidin, Bulgaria, 130 miles south of Belgrade. The fall of the fortress cannot long be delayed—in fact, a Belgrade dispatch reports that General Kutuntcheff's troops already are beginning to surrender.

WOULD GIVE MOTHERS ALL MINOR CHILDREN

Judge Hammond Urges Legislature to Pass Immediately "Mothers' Rights" Bill

That a bill will be introduced in the Georgia legislature next week providing for a mother to have the right of custody over her minor children is the inference drawn from a letter which has been received by Samuel L. Olive, house member from Richmond county.

The letter is from Judge Henry C. Hammond, a prominent Augusta jurist, and urges Mr. Olive to offer a bill which will provide that the mother shall be given the highest rights of guardianship over all minor children.

Mr. Hammond's letter grew out of the case of Julian J. Zachry, the Augusta man who was awarded his two little minor children, later spirited away by Mrs. Zachry. Judge Hammond has declared that he never would have given these children to the custody of their father had not his hands been absolutely tied by what he characterizes as Georgia's "moth-eaten law."

With the letter to Mr. Olive Judge Hammond encloses a suggestion of the bill he would like to see passed. By this bill Judge Hammond would invest the entire right of custody in the mother, unless she is an unfit person. Judge Hammond says that the mother is the natural guardian of the child, that she should have the first and highest rights over her minor children, and strongly urges that Mr. Olive and the other members of the Richmond delegation in the legislature look to the introduction and passage of such a bill.

Judge Hammond's letter to Mr. Olive follows:

Augusta, Ga., July 25, 1913.—Hon. Samuel L. Olive, House of Representatives, Atlanta, Ga. Dear Sir: As you know, I have many times called to your attention the barbarous and iniquitous state of our law in reference to a mother's rights over her own children. You will also recall my undertaking to furnish you with a rough draft of a bill designed to change the law. This I now enclose.

There is nothing peculiar about our Georgia law as it stands. It is the old common law which we inherit from the English. Doubtless every state in the union has or has had this same law.

However, it is distinctly discordant with present day beliefs and sentiments on this subject and I am very earnest in believing that the old law should be brought into harmony with these beliefs and sentiments.

Of course a judge as such knows but one guiding star, the law. The wrongs of the existing law have not been galling in many instances, because of the natural disposition on the part of judges to get around the law in some way or other. This in itself is much to be deplored.

Under the statutes of our state and the decisions of our courts I think the three following propositions are unquestionably correct:

1. The right to the custody of minor children is aiond in the father.

2. If he forfeits this right by becoming an unfit person to exercise it, then the law looks to the best interests of the child.

3. Nowhere in our laws are the rights of the mother as such in the first instance maintainable.

I urge your very earnest attention to this matter of vital importance. Case after case arises in which courts and judicial officers, mere creatures of the law, are roundly blamed ofr doing their simple and unavoidable duty. The fault is not with them, but with the law, and this can only be corrected by the legislature.

The natural right and justness of the law I propose giving to the mother the first and highest right over her children seems unanswerable and overwhelming.

Very truly yours,
HENRY C. HAMMOND.

LEO FRANK EXPECTS ACQUITTAL AND ASKS AN IMMEDIATE TRIAL

Pencil Factory Superintendent Declares the Sooner He Faces a Jury the Sooner He'll Gain His Freedom

ACCUSED OF PHAGAN CRIME, HE WELCOMES TRIAL DAY

Wife Is Regular Visitor to the Tower—Frank's Time in Prison Is Spent in Reading and Playing Chess

Leo M. Frank is ready and anxious to go on trial for his life before Judge Roan in the superior court next Monday morning, according to statements he has made to friends who visited him in his cell in the tower.

"The sooner I face the jury, the sooner I will gain my liberty," he is quoted as having said.

This indicates that the factory superintendent, accused of the most atrocious crime in Atlanta's history, is confident of an acquittal.

Frank is as fit physically to face a jury as he was the day he was incarcerated. He has not had a day's sickness during his detention. He has lived regularly, getting eight hours of sleep and plenty of exercise.

The most remarkable fact about his arrest, probably, is the way his friends have stuck to his side since. Not a day has passed since he was taken to the county jail but what at least twenty relatives and acquaintances visited him. Between 6 o'clock in the morning, when his breakfast is brought from home, and 10 o'clock at night, his usual retiring hour, one or more are constantly at his side.

Chess and checkers have been two of the indicted superintendent's comforts. He plays for several hours daily with different visitors. Sometimes he holds the boards on his knee on the inside of his cell while his opponent sits on the outside of the bars, reaching through to make his moves.

On occasions, it is said, when a particularly important contest of skill was to be played visitors have been permitted to enter the cell to play. Frank is champion, it is stated.

Another diversion of Frank's is reading. A dozen of the latest magazines are always in his cell, and he keeps up with the events by reading the newspapers. At first it is said he became excited when reading accounts of the Phagan case, but since then he has come to view passively what is said about him. He exhibits little emotion. He has grown stoic.

WIFE CALLS REGULARLY.

Frank's routine of life includes a bath every day, an hour's physical culture exercise, and three meals a day. His food is sent from his home three times a day. He arises about 6 or 6:30, takes a shower bath, exercises for half an hour and eats. Then he chats with friends, plays chess or checkers or reads until noon. He eats again and during the afternoon if his wife or mother calls he is taken to the dining room of the prison to converse with them.

He never receives either at his cell door. They have never seen him in his "cage." When they call at the jail they are ushered into the mess room, where they await his coming in the custody of a jailer.

Although Mrs. Frank did not visit her husband for two weeks immediately following his arrest, she has been almost a daily called since. It was fear of reporters, it is said, that kept her away from the jail at first.

Since the first week after the murder, Mrs. Frank has not read a newspaper account of the police investigation.

The first accounts frightened her and drove her almost into hysterics, it is reported. After that she has relied on Frank's attorney and her husband himself of news of developments.

While there has been no intimation from the attorneys for the defense of Leo M. Frank that they will or will not go to trial on Monday morning, it was learned Saturday that practically

NATIONAL GUARDSMAN IS ATTACKED BY NEGROES

Assailants Rescued With Difficulty From Incensed Mates of Injured Man

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 26.—George H. M. Bennett, a private in the district national guard, is in a hospital today with a fractured skull and three of his negro assailants are in jail awaiting the outcome of his injuries. Bennett, it is believed, will die. The negroes were rescued with difficulty from an infuriated crowd of Bennett's mates, who mounted policemen holding the guardsmen off. Three companions of the negroes, who joined in the attack on Bennett made their escape and are being sought by the police.

The trouble had its inception early yesterday when Bennett, who was doing sentry duty at the rifle range, complained of the regiment and started back to camp. When a short distance from his fellows, he was set upon by six negroes and severely beaten. When his plight was discovered he was unconscious but three of the negroes were overtaken by pursuers, from whom they were rescued with difficulty by the mounted police. Early this morning an operation was performed on Bennett in the hope of saving his life. The surgeons, however, said he had slim chances for recovery.

ALBANY VOTES ISSUE OF $100,000 IN BONDS

Plan Improvements in the Schools, Pavings, Waterworks, Fire Apparatus

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

ALBANY, Ga., July 26.—By a good margin over the necessary two-thirds, the entire municipal bond issue of $100,000 proposed by the city council, was carried in the election of Thursday.

The special registration held for the election was light, and therefore the number of votes necessary to carry the election was not large. The registration was 236, thinking a majority in favor of bonds necessary to carry the issue. In the election 184 votes were cast and such proposition was carried.

The new school proposition received the largest vote— 181 for and 3 against. Bonds were also voted for obtaining site for school building; for street paving; for the extension of city water mains; for improvement of drainage and sewerage system of city; for improving city cemeteries; for the purchase of additional fire fighting apparatus.

LAMAR SAYS HE'S "BUSY;" CAN'T GO TO NEW YORK

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 26.—David Lamar, the "Wolf of Wall street," who is under indictment in New York on two counts for impersonating public officials, refused today to take the indictments seriously and intimated that he had no immediate intention of returning to New York. Mr. Lamar said that he was so extremely "busy" here that he could not afford to leave at the present time. With his counsel, Henry E. Davis, he is awaiting copies of the true bills found against him before making his plans.

Lamar admitted before the senate "lobby" investigating committee that he had interviewed Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania; Speaker Clark and other well-known public men in telephone conversations with Wall street rivals in an effort to advance his own schemes.

MATTIFORD RELEASED BY POLICE OF BOSTON

Arrested Friday in Boston, John D. Mattiford, formerly of Atlanta, was released by the Boston police Friday night. John A. Barwick, the complaining witness in the indictment against Mattiford alleging that he assisted in the kidnaping of Mr. Barwick's two children when he eloped with Mrs. Barwick some months ago, will not prosecute Mattiford.

Barwick, now residing in New York, notified the police authorities that he has recovered the children, John A., Jr., and Dorothy Elizabeth, and that he is satisfied. Barwick formerly was the head bookkeeper of the Exposition Cotton Mills, in Atlanta. Mattiford lived in a downtown hotel. Neither he nor Mrs. Barwick will be required to return to Atlanta.

BELIEVE NEW YORK COP COMMITTED SUICIDE

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 26.—The belief expressed yesterday that Policeman James J. Cahill, who was found killed in the yard of St. Matthews Catholic church in Brooklyn Monday morning, had committed suicide, is now the definite conclusion reached by Chief of Police Commissioner Dougherty, who took personal charge of the inquiry into the supposed killing of the policeman by burglars.

If Cahill killed himself, he staged the act with dramatic cunning, for in the church door was found the burglar's jimmy and the policeman's body bore three stab wounds, as well as a bullet wound.

A motive for the staging of a burglary to cover a suicidal act is seen by the police in the fact that if Cahill had been killed on duty his widow would have received, as is customary in such instances, nearly $20,000 in death benefits. The members of the Cahill family still refuse to accept the theory, however, that the policeman committed suicide.

ANOTHER AVIATOR FLIES ACROSS ALPS

BASEL, Switzerland, July 26.—Another flight across the Alps was made today by the French aviator, Oscar Bider. He flew from Milan to this city, about 140 miles, in three hours and forty-five minutes. He halted at Liestal to replenish his fuel. The greatest height attained was 10,000 feet.

SHETLAND PONY PLAYS SICK TO AMUSE CHILD CRIPPLES AT HOSPITAL

BY AUNT GERTIE.

If you were a cripple and never could go outdoors to see all the wonderful things there are to make children happy wouldn't you be surprised and pleased if a dear, little shetland pony pushed his soft, warm nose close up to the covers of your tiny white bed, in the hospital ward, and said, as plain as words, "How are you today?"

That is just what pretty Roland-Berwick, an English pony, does every Sunday afternoon at the Great Northern hospital in Holloway, England.

This almost human four-footed friend of the sick children belongs to a Mrs. Shepherd, of Clerkenwell. She is very fond of children and very sorry, indeed, for those who cannot go outdoors to play. So Roland-Berwick goes each week, at least one day, to cheer the hearts of the little hospital folks.

He seems to understand why he is sent there quite well and never slights a single child.

Roland has been taught some very clever little tricks. After he has been all around the children's ward, one of the nurses puts a bandage over his eye as if he were hurt. Then he starts out again and walks up to the children's cots and waits for them to sympathize with him.

When the bell rings to notify visitors that they must leave the hospital, Roland trots out of the ward into the waiting room elevator to be taken downstairs.

But do you think he trots right out into the yard?

Dear me, no. He waits, for, you see, some one always gives him sugar and other dainty goodies for his afternoon's work!

Wants $50,000 Damage For "Vile" Language Overheard on Phone

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CHARLESTON, July 26.—Judge Smith has refused the motion to remand the suit of Joseph and Elizabeth Murray ,of St. George, against the Southern Telephone and Telegraph company to the state court for trial in Dorchester county. The suit is for $50,000, brought by the plaintiffs against the corporation for an interruption to a conversation a short time before their recent marriage, when the impatient interrupter endeavored to gain complete possession of the line by "vile and indecent remarks" over the wire.

PHILADELPHIA PENSIONS ITS WARRANT EMPLOYES

(By Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—Under the provisions of an act passed by the legislature and approved by Governor Tener, this city is given authority to establish a municipal pension fund for employes. The act applies to all city employes who have given twenty years of service to the city.

While the act provides that the city may set aside for the purpose 1-2 of 1 per cent of all taxes collected, the provision is not mandatory, and council must pass an ordinance creating the municipal pension fund before it shall be operative.

The act provides that in the event of the creation of the fund every employe will be compelled to pay into the fund 1 per cent of his yearly salary. The pension to be allowed the beneficiary will be equal to one-half the average yearly salary received by him during the last two years before his retirement.

FIRST MOTHERS' PENSIONS IN STATE OF WASHINGTON

(By Associated Press.)

SEATTLE, July 26.—Ten women were granted pensions yesterday by Superior Judge Frater when he heard the first batch of cases under the mothers' pension law enacted by the legislature last winter. Fifteen cases were heard, three being denied and two referred for further investigation. The largest pension granted was for $37.50 a month for $30 a month, according to the circumstances of the petitioners. The investigator of the pension department reported to the court that 300 applications for mothers pensions have been filed, of which 150 were found to come within the provisions of the law.

SUGGESTS "BIRTH STRIKE" FOR ELECTORAL REFORMS

(By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, July 26.—A "birth strike" as a means of bringing about electoral reform in Prussia is reported to be under discussion by a Socialist gathering which heard the idea recently advanced by a speaker. The father of the idea was Dr. Alfred Bernstein, who declared that most successful pressure would be exerted on the government if mothers would make some such announcement as this:

"We will bring no children into the world to become citizens of this state unless better rights of citizenship are accorded."

Files $50,000 Suit

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 26.—H. Boykin, administrator of the estate of Peter Boykin, of Sumter, has entered a suit for $50,000 against the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, growing out of the killing of Boykin by a train of the defendant corporation. The railroad has filed papers in the United States district court to have the case transferred from the state court. Arguments to remand the case will be heard later.

And Here's Another Good Snake Story: It's From Boston, Ga

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

BOSTON, Ga., July 26.—O. L. Blanton and Hewlette Walton, of this town, had a singular experience with a coach whip snake late yesterday afternoon, when the reptile, which was about six feet long, suddenly attacked Mr. Walton as they were walking through a swamp, wound its body around his leg, then drew its tail back as if to strike.

Mr. Walton ran a few steps, then checked his pace and a shot from Editor Blanton's small bore rifle laid the reptile low.

There has been a saying for generations that a coachwip snake would actually whip, but no one in this section had ever been an eye witness to such an event before.

PROSPERITY SHOWN BY INCREASING AUTOS

EATONTON, Ga., July 26.—Judging by the rapidly increasing automobile population of Putnam county during the past few weeks, there seems to be no "hard times," among the farmers especially. Three in one week and a cry for more, seems to foreshadow peace, plenty and prosperity in the enjoyment of bountiful harvests this fall. Among those purchasing touring cars during the past week, County Commissioner Frank Freeman, a well-known planter and country merchant, was one of the most delighted. Improved roads, with a widening to thirty feet throughout the county of all main roads, are making the county's highways popular for tourists as well as resident citizens.

SUES FOR $50 TO RECOVER TEN CENTS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 26.—Because the Atlantic Coast Line is alleged to have charged 10 cents above the fixed rate for a piece of freight from Atlanta to Barnwell, the Farmers Union Mercantile company of that city has entered suit against the railroad, suing also for the $50 allowed under a penalty statute. The Atlantic Coast Line has had the case transferred to the federal court and the case will probably come up for trial at Charleston at the next term of court.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Acting Secretary Roosevelt has commended Martin J. Halvey, seaman at the naval training station, Newport, R. I., for his gallantry in jumping from the ferry boat Inca July 1 and rescuing a man who had fallen overboard from one of the launches of the torpedo tender Dixie.

The Inca was making a landing when the accident happened and Halvey, without hesitation, dived into the water and rescued the struggling man.

WOMAN IN FLAMES RUSHES INTO STREET

The woman, a mass of flames, ran screaming into Washington avenue, and neighbors rushed to her assistance. Practically every shred of clothing Mrs. Ridley wore was burned off her. Her husband is an employe of the Atlantic Coast Line.

Monocle Prevents Rich Young German From Entering Army

(By Associated Press.)

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—A monocle has shattered the dreams of Dr. Otto Gordon Goldfield, of Germany, those of his father, vice president of a corporation of Hamberg, and of a beautiful European chorus girl whose identity shall remain a secret until her hero's dream has been rebuilt and realized.

Dr. Goldfield, a self confessed lover, spendthrift and temporarily disinherited son, recently came to the United States with the intention of joining the army. He wanted to forget the pretty chorus girl, the bright lights of Monte Carlo and the memory of the $32,000 he lavished on his fiancee in one year.

Three years in the American army, Goldfield, his father and the girl decided, would make a man of him. He would then return home, be reinheired and would marry the girl. Goldfield enlisted at Chicago last Tuesday and was asigned to Jefferson Barracks in St. Louis.

He arrived with a monocle in front of his right eye, with a cane hanging on his left forearm and other signia of the dandy. His physique was Apollinesque. He could ride, hurdle and swim. But—he wore a monocle and could not see, at least, not perfectly. The strain, by its constant use, has made him unfit for the United States army. The local examining officer therefore rejected him yesterday and the German's dream was shattered.

THREE AUTOS WILL DO SECRETARY OF LABOR

Congress to Have Some Fun Over New Cabinet Officer's Request

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Secretary Wilson, of the department of labor, who has informed congress that one touring automobile, an electric runabout and an auto truck are necessary to the good conduct of the new department, apparently has landed himself in trouble on a rocky legislative road. Members of the house who were friendly to the cabinet officer in his demand admitted today that the minority members probably "would have fun" with the item, which likely will be included in the urgent deficiency bill the appropriations committee is now preparing.

"I am afraid Secretary Wilson's requition will mention the trouble, but not the orders and bent axles," said one of the Democratic leaders, "before it gets past the minority objections. Other department heads have their motors, and Mr. Wilson should have his, but this is the day of reprisals."

Secretary Wilson has estimated that three cars would cost not more than $8,500. This amount, however, may be reduced by the appropriations committee through the substitution of cheaper cars.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE IS HELD AT EATONTON, GA.

Putnam County Planters Report Crops in Fine Shape, Especially Corn Yield

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

EATONTON, Ga., July 26.—A farmers' institute was held at the Putnam county court house Friday.

Among the most interesting features were "The Cow as a Source of Profit on the Farm," as told by Prof. J. William Hart, professor of dairying at the State Agricultural college; "The Chicken Problem," by Prof. L. L. Jones, professor of poultry husbandry; "Co-operation," by Prof. G. W. Duncan; and "The Results of Farm Demonstration Work," by J. Walter Hendricks, district agent of co-operation of the United States department of agriculture.

Putnam's farmers were invited to come and bring their farm problems with them, and interesting features on the program were arranged for the Boys' Corn clubs and Girls' Canning clubs.

Good crop reports continue to come from all over the county, with the fine rain and good seasons. Especially fine crops is the report from every section of the county.

FACTORY FIRE PROBE TAKES A NEW TURN

Woman Employe Testifies She Gave Warning an Hour in Advance

(By Associated Press.)

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 26.—A new trend may be given the inquiry into the cause of the fatal fire in the factory of the Binghamton Clothing company by the evidence of Mrs. William Whitney, one of the employes who declares she called attention to the unusual heat in the building at 1 o'clock and smelled smoke at 2 o'clock, and called attention of the girls to it. The flames were discovered at 2:30. This would sustain the theory that fire started in a large number of rags stored in the basement.

Search for the bodies has ended, the last being found outside the ruins beneath a fallen wall, crushed and burned so as to be unrecognizable.

The fire insurance companies have agreed to pay life policies without demanding identification of fire victims and the Binghamton Clothing company announces that it will resume work at once.

The public funeral and interment of the unidentified dead will be held tomorrow.

All of the injured now in the hospital are expected to live.

DISINFECTANT'S FUMES KILL HOSPITAL ORDERLY

Another Man in Serious Condition From Attempt to Rescue His Friend

(By Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—The fumes of a disinfectant fluid last night caused the death of one man and rendered another unconscious in the servants' quarters of Mount Sinai hospital.

The rooms were being disinfected with a solution and had been ordeded tightly closed, when Andrew Schemmel, twenty-five years old, who was recently discharged from the position of orderly, returned for some clothes. Finding the door locked, he entered the fume-laden room through a rear window.

When he did not return, Andrew Bielos, who accompanied him, also entered the room. When the quarters were reopened by the superintendent last night, Schemmel was dead and Bielos was unconscious. He may not live.

WAYCROSS MURDER CASE TO BE HEARD AUGUST 6

Tom Bullard Charged With Robbing and Killing Farmer

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WAYCROSS, Ga., July 26.—August 6 was announced today as the date arranged for the preliminary hearing in the case of Tom Bullard, the young white man held here in connection with the murder of Mack Spain, a farmer at Mexico, west of Waycross, three weeks ago.

Bullard denies that he had anything to do with the farmer's death, but it is alleged that the state will seek to show that Bullard, with the assistance of one or two others, waylaid Spain and killed him for the purpose of robbery.

GIRL SUFFERED TERRIBLY

At Regular Intervals—Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured her.

Adrian, Texas.—"I take pleasure in adding my testimonial to the great list of cures and hope that it will be of interest to suffering women. For four years I suffered untold agonies at regular intervals. Such pains and headaches, dizziness and sickness at stomach, then finally hemorrhages until I would be nearly blind. I had five doctors and none of them could do more than relieve me for a time.

"I saw your advertisement in a paper and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took seven boxes of it and used two bottles of the Sanative Wash, and I am completely cured of my trouble. When I began taking the Compound I only weighed ninety-six pounds and now I weigh one hundred and twenty-six pounds. If anyone wishes to address me in person I will cheerfully answer all letters, as I cannot speak too highly of the Pinkham remedies."—Miss JESSIE MARSH, Adrian, Texas.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

MURDER MYSTERY BAFFLES CHICAGO POLICE

Woman Murdered in Alley and Body Dragged Into Lake

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, July 26.—The police were confronted with another murder mystery in the finding late last night of the body of a woman partly immersed in the shallow water along the lake shore in Rogers park. A bullet hole over the right eye and two abrasions of the scalp are proof of the woman's violent death.

On the beach the officers wound an automatic revolver containing one empty cartridge. They came across two furrows in the sand, which were traced to an alley about fifty feet away, and from there were several footprints made by a man's shoe and an umbrella bearing the label of a Milwaukee manufacturer. It is thought that the woman was murdered in the alley, dragged into a few feet of water and that the waves washed the body shoreward again.

The body is that of a woman about thirty years old and who weighed about 125 pounds.

She "Insured" Herself Against Mistreatment If Hubby Was Drunk

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—With insurance against tempermental incompatability and against marriage infelicity already on the market, Mrs. Bell Kinsolving, of Marshall county, Ky., has gone the eccentrics one better and insured herself against abuse by her husband when he has been drinking.

In a suit entered in the United States court here yesterday she seeks to collect $10,000 from H. P. Kinsolving, the husband, who, she alleges, broke his pledges. The couple were married in Kentucky, January 19, 1905, and on June 1, of the same year, while visiting in St. Louis, Kensolving struck and otherwise mistreated his wife, her petition says.

Mrs. Kinsolving returned to the home of her parents, but within two weeks her husband, who was then postmaster at Malden, Mo., sought a reconciliation. This was effected through a contract in which the husband agreed to forfeit to her $10,000 in case he should abuse her again, the petition says.

During the same month Mrs. Kinsolving alleges her husband violated his promise and she was again forced to return to her parents.

PORTER CHARLTON NOW IN THE BEST OF HEALTH

Tells Fellow Prisoner He Will Be Back From Italy in Time for Christmas Dinner

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 26.—Porter Charlton, who recently was said to be seriously ill in the jail of Hudson county, N. J., where he is awaiting extradition to Italy for trial on a charge of wife murder, apparently is in good health. Charlton is denying the report of his illness by mailing to his friends photographs which he had taken in jail during the past week. He appears from them to be almost robust.

It is learned that during the three years' confinement he has engaged in interviewing many other prisoners with whom he came in contact and has attempted a novel of underworld life. The prisoner has said with confidence that he will be acquitted in Italy. He told a man in jail Wednesday that he surely will be back in this country for a dinner with him on Christmas day.

Judge Paul Charlton, his father, and his stepmother have been staying for the past ten days at a little hotel opposite the jail and they spend several hours daily with the prisoner.

Booklovers' Bulletin

We know our big family of Booklovers are anxious, and want news of the campaign.

Since the middle of last week the Campaign Editor and his force have been busy receiving, stamping and stacking away answers. As the last of the answers were in by 10 a. m. Tuesday, a meeting of the Judges was called and Hon. M. L. Brittain, Major R. J. Guinn and Howard S. Cole responded and organized by electing Hon. M. L. Brittain chairman. After explaining to them the system of special stamping each set of answers as they were received, and examining those so stamped, it was decided to add one more safeguard to the sets, and it was ordered that all sets be listed and renumbered, and The Journal's private seal stamped over the number. Then the original stamp with which all the sets were stamped was destroyed in the presence of the Judges. The listing and renumbering of the sets will take several days, and when the Judges will have another meeting, examine the work, and the Chairman will receive a dupliecate list of all contestants' names and addresses, with their numbers. This will be a guarantee to the contestants that no set of answers can be slipped in or counted in any way after the checking of answers has begun. As soon as this work is completed and the checking is started, we will publish two pictures a day with the correct titles. Watch The Journal for particulars, as we will keep you posted right along.

MISS MAYBELLE DECKER IS NOW AN ORPHAN

"Lady of the Sandwiches" Loses Father Shortly Following Mother's Death

In the death of Mr. R. P. Decker Friday night at 10 o'clock in a private sanitarium, Miss Maybelle C. Decker, of Atlanta, became an orphan, without a close relative remaining but with many warm friends ready to console her in her loss. Three months ago Mrs. Decker passed away, Mr. Decker being very ill at the time. Their daughter, alone surviving them, has been the mainstay of the family for several years past, she having discovered and built up the business of manufacturing sandwiches for downtown soda fountains to retail.

Mr. and Mrs. Decker and their daughter came to Atlanta some six years ago, Mr. Decker having been transferred here as the traveling representative of a large corporation. The family's original home was in Chicago, shortly after their arrival here, Mrs. Decker fell ill, and after a brief interval Mr. Decker lost his position, the corporation for which he worked having been absorbed by still larger ones. Before he could re-establish himself, he, too, became ill. From then until now their daughter has conducted the family's affairs upon her own resources solely. Miss Decker lives at 126 Waverly way, Inman Park.

The funeral will be held at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the chapel of Greenberg & Bond on Houston street. Rev. Dr. F. A. Risse, dean of St. Philip's cathedral, will conduct the ceremony. Interment will be in West View cemetery.

DOCTOR TAKES ISSUE WITH "M. & R." BULLETIN

Says Convict's Death Described Was Not Fulton County Convict

That the facts alleged in a recent Men and Religion bulletin published in the advertising columns of the Atlanta newspapers were not those which surrounded the death of a Fulton county convict recently from sunstroke, and that the reference by the bulletin to brutal treatment could not have been directed against the local convict authorities, in the conclusion offered by a diagnosis from Dr. Paul McDonald, of Bolton, who attended the Fulton convict.

Shelby Smith, chairman of the county commissioners, is out of the city. Captain T. J. Donaldson, the county superintendent of public works, referred an inquiry to Dr. McDonald.

Dr. McDonald, asked about the case of Charley Stevens, a negro convict who died in the Bellwood camp hospital last Friday when the heat was severe, stated that the negro died of sunstroke and not of ill treatment.

"The negro was struck down by the sun about 11 o'clock in the morning and given immediate medical attention, but died in the camp hospital a few minutes after he had arrived there. He had not been treated badly nor overworked," said the doctor.

MRS. STARNES TO SING AT SUNDAY CONCERT

Wife of City Organist Has a Fine Soprano Voice

Mrs. Lillian Belle Starnes, wife of Dr. Percy J. Starnes, will assist the city organist at the free concert Sunday afternoon at the auditorium.

Mrs. Starnes possesses a coloratura soprano voice of wide range and remarkable purity. She is already known for her splendid concert work.

Among the selections she will sing Sunday afternoon will be the famous aria, "Ah fors'e lui," from "Traviata." She will also sing the "Queen of Night" aria from "The Magic Flute."

This Sunday afternoon's concert will be Dr. Starnes' farewell to Atlanta, as his engagement terminates this fall. It is by no means the intention, however, of the Music Festival association to give up the free Sunday concerts. They will be kept up regularly.

"AM I PRETTY?" SHE ASKS

Special Correspondent of Journal Visits America's Most Beautiful Child, and Grandma Won't Let Him Answer Theresa's Question—Why Artists Rave Over Little Beauty

Best photograph of Theresa Marie Blitz.

BY V. H. ALBURN.
(Staff Special.)

TOPEKA, Kas.—It is very interesting to visit Topeka, because here you see the prettiest little girl in America.

I say the "prettiest" because many American artists, many photographers and the cultured Artist League of Boston say Theresa Marie Blitz has the most perfect features and figure to be found anywhere.

She was also the winner in a contest with 2,000 other child beauties, and as a prize she is going to have a tour of the country with her father and a free trip to Paris.

I called at Theresa's home, saw her and talked to her. In truth, she is very beautiful.

She has soft, wavy, dark brown hair and big, wistful, blue eyes. Her lips are rosy and delicately molded. Her features have the rare symmetry seldom found except in Greek statues. Her skin is fair, with a trace of pink showing through. Her ears are pink shells; her neck is a fine bit of carved ivory, and her little shoulders are lovely beyond the camera's power to show.

Hands, feet and all are just as beautiful. The lines are incomparably graceful, and the measurements, artists say, set the standard for sculptors.

A tape drawn around her arm at the armpit registers nine inches. Her wrist is 5 1-2 inches around, her thigh 16 inches, calf 10 inches, ankle 7 inches. She weighs fifty-five pounds. She will be seven years old next November.

Theresa is as bright and good as she is pretty. She started to school last year and made rapid progress. Her father, I. M. Blitz, a local merchant, says his greatest ambition is to give her a finished education.

The little girl's mother died when she was eight months old, and her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Erickson, has cared for her since.

"People say I'm pretty," said Theresa when the writer called to see her. "I wonder if I am? What do you think?"

Grandmother's warning finger enjoined silence. And she whispered:

"Please don't tell her. She'll find it out soon enough, goodness knows.

"Of course, I'm proud that she's so beautiful; but it's so much more important for her to be just a good, sweet little girl."

The accident happened at 5:30 o'clock Saturday morning in the garage at the rear of 164 Love street. W. T. Edgar, a machinist living there, had the cars in his charge.

BRANNEN STILL FIGHTING FEES IN FULTON COUNTY

Sends New Bill to Legislators, Backed by Strong Indorsements

A new draft of the Fulton county salary law which the high courts recently held invalid because of a minor defect, has been submitted to the representatives from Fulton county in the state legislature by C. I. Brannen, officially designated for that work by the Democratic organization of the county.

With the draft has gone to each local member of the assembly the following letter from Mr. Brannen:

"I am transmitting herewith, under separate cover, to you and your colleagues representing Fulton county, a bill for establishing the 'fee system' and substituting a 'salary system' therein.

"Having been appointed chairman of the sub-committee from the Democratic executive committee of the county, for the purpose of seeing that this law is enacted, I am in possession of and will furnish you the following indorsements of this bill and request that the representatives of the county introduce it and use their utmost ability to secure its early passage.

"Petition from the taxpayers, representing millions of the taxable property of the county.

"Resolutions from the county commissioners.

"Presentments from fourteen different grand juries of the county, including the last one, calling on the present representives in the premises.

"The official request of the members of the Democratic executive committee, and last—but not least—I draw to your attention the fact of an expression on the subject at the ballot box in which 85 per cent of the people demanded this reform.

"In addition to these facts, which will greatly strengthen your cause before the house, I have also in my possession and subject to your orders, expressions in writing from a majority of the state and county officials in Fulton county, indicating their willingness to abide by the wishes of the people on the subject.

"These documents will doubtless aid you very greatly in the passage of the bill. Practically the same bill was passed through the last house by a unanimous vote and without any unnecessary consumption of time, and I am satisfied that with the aid of your ability and experience the county can hope for equally speedy and efficient action again.

"In behalf of the Democratic party of the county, which you and I have the honor to represent and hoping for an early reply and favorable assurance, I remain,

"Yours very respectfully,
(Signed) "C. I. BRANNEN,
"Chairman sub-committee of the Fulton County Democratic Executive Committee."

DISCOVERY OF A RECIPE BRINGS A FORTUNE

A recipe made by a singer who had suffered for years with severe indigestion, and by the help of a celebrated French doctor, who had told him of a vegetable with marvelous digestive properties, this vegetable was used in a sauce which the singer added to his food and in the cooking. Carloads of Waw-Waw have now been sent to different parts of the world, and in every place it has had phenomenal success. The best cooks in Europe pronounced the sauce unexcelled. It adds zest and piquancy when used in the cooking and with soups, salads, hot and cold meats and fish. Waw-Waw (an obsolete South American Indian word for vegetable) is purely vegetable. A 25 cent bottle will convince you how much you will enjoy your food by adding Waw-Waw and how easily you will digest your food.

FORSYTH—Vaudeville.
GRAND—Motion Pictures.
BIJOU—Tabloid Musical Comedy.

There will be matinee and night performances at the Forsyth today that will complete one of the big weeks of the history of the busy theater. With John F. Conroy, the diving star, and his models; Deiro, the accordeonist, and Lester, the ventriloquist, the bill has satisfied everybody.

For next week another strong bill of vaudeville will be offered. The big feature of the program will be the fact that nearly every act is a laugh winner, and nothing is more acceptable now than a good real laugh. The artists who make up the show have been selected with this one idea in view.

The star will be Joe Welch, the character comedian, who has made a life study of the Hebrew. Mr. Welch has never burlesqued the character, but makes of it a shrewd delineation.

Robert L. Dailey and company will appear in Atlanta for the first time, and will present "Our Bob," conceded to be the funniest sketch i nvaudeville. Dailey is just the sort of comedian as his brother, Pete Dailey, and is sure to become a real favorite here.

Elso Ward, a pretty vocalist, and Dolan and Lenbarr, in a satire on mind reading, will be among the other features.

"Les Miserables" will conclude the week at the Grand with matinee and night exhibitions of the wonderful picture Saturday. It has proven to be a most entertaining and pleasing photo-play and attendance has been on the increase at every exhibition.

Next week the Carnegie Museum Alaska-Siberia pictures will be offered, with the highest grade of first run movies, selected from the best products that are released.

The Alaska-Siberia pictures are decidedly interesting. They show scenes in the cold countries and the hunt for big game is wonderfully interesting. There are big scenes showing the wild animals as they live in that country and the experiences some of the hunters have are exciting.

There will be daily matinees at 2:30 at 10 cents for all seats and exhibitions at night at 8:30 at 10, 15 and 25 cents.

The two matinees Saturday and two performances Saturday night will conclude the engagement of "Good Morning, Judge," at the Bijou. Few musical tabloids that have visited Atlanta this season have scored so heavily with patrons of amusement, and the attendance which started out with a capacity house Monday afternoon has keept up during the entire week ,breaking all records of the theater. Much interest is shown in next week's bill, which is Norman Friedwald's rip-roaring musical farce, "The Girl from Dublin." With much good comedy, pretty musical numbers, elaborate scenic effects and gay costumes, the attraction comes exceedingly well recommended, and there is good reason to anticipate a show that will eclipse most of the offerings of the season at the Bijou.

MILITARY COURT-MARTIAL RAPPED BY MRS. DUNBAR

Augusta Woman Tells Committee How Soldiers Killed Her Brother-in-Law

Friday afternoon Mrs. B. S. Dunbar testified to the house committee on military affairs that is investigating the killing of citizens during the Augusta strike that one of the officers confessed to her that he was extremely excited at the time of the shooting and that he himself shot "promiscuously." He was not allowed to testify at the courtmartial, he told her.

Major Claude Smith, she said, told her would not let him appear as a witness. Nor was she herself allowed to testify like she wanted to, at the courtmartial, said Mrs. Dunbar.

She asked Major Levy after the trial, she said, why she could not tell her story in her own way and why she couldn't have a lawyer there to help look after her interests, and his reply, she said, was that the military must protect themselves; that if it was not for that there wouldn't be any military; that they were obliged to hold their own counsel.

Mrs. Dunbar related that Robert Christie, her brother-in-law, one of the men killed, told her just before he died how he had been shot. He was on his way to her home, she said, to get his wife. Driving along in the automobile, he saw some soldiers, but thought nothing of them, she quoted him as saying. Then one of them jumped out in front of him and began to fire. The man shot his arm away. "For God's sake don't shoot any more!" he told her he shouted. "Don't you see I'm trying to stop?" But they kept on shooting, he said. He died about an hour after he was shot, from wounds through the lungs.

Representative Slade, of Muscogee not a member of the committee, appeared before it to emphasize his belief that a thorough investigation of the affair should be made. Nothing like it had occured since the Indian days in Georgia, he asserted. He characterized the killings as "most atrocious crimes."

The committee recessed at 2:30 o'clock until Tuesday afternoon.

Fort Monroe Guns Practice Resisting Attacks By Night

(By Associated Press.)

NORFOLK, Va., July 26.—Firing and general maneuvers to demonstrate the ability of the guns of Fort Monroe in target work at night to practice and ability to resist an enemy approaching from sea at night continued from last night midnight until 3 a. m. today.

Powerful searchlights were used at the fort in finding the anchored targets placed some distance out in lower Chesapeake bay.

Early Sunday morning the "enemy," consisting of several large navy tugs and a mine planter, will attempt to slip into Hampton roads through the Virginia capes and proceed with mine laying without detection by the guns at Fort Monroe. The searchlight display from Fort Monroe during last night's target firing was probably the most brilliant ever witnessed from the fort.

C. S. REID WILL PROSECUTE THE CRAWFORD WARRANTS

Stone Mountain Solicitor Takes Place of Dorsey, Who Is Disqualified

Judge W. D. Ellis, of the superior court, has named Solicitor General C. S. Reid, of the Stone Mountain circuit, as solicitor general pro tem of the Atlanta circuit to handle the criminal prosecutions in the Crawford will case for the state.

Recently a warrant charging Mrs. Mary Lou Crawford, who is fighting to retain a part of the fortune left by the late J. B. Crawford, with murder, was drawn. Another warrant, charging Frederick Lumb, a friend of Mrs. Crawford with being an accessory before the fact, has been sworn out.

Solicitor General M. M. Dorsey is disqualified because his firm is interested in the civil litigation, and as a result Solicitor Reid has been appointed and requested to serve in the case.

The Crawford and Lumb warrants will probably be placed before a Fulton grand jury by Solicitor Reid within the next two weeks.

W. S. PRIOLEAU GOES TO INJURED SISTERS

At noon Saturday it was expected that W. S Prioleau, of 70 East Merritts avenue, Atlanta, would arrive in Monroe, Ga., where his two sisters, Misses Theo and Dolly, were injured in an automobile accident Thursday night.

Morris Prioleau, another brother of the young ladies, remaining in Atlanta, stated Saturday morning that the family is now satisfied the extent of their injuries is just as stated and that everything will be all right with no serious consequences.

The dispatches say that Miss Theo sustained a double fracture of the leg, and that Miss Dolly was bruised and shaken, but not badly hurt. The two young ladies, visiting relatives and friends in Monroe, were thrown from an automobile when the owner of the car, at its wheel, raced against another machine along the road into a sharp curve.

SHARKS, WHALES, HIDEOUS DEVIL FISH "MOVIE" ACTORS

Tney Pose at the Bottom of the Sea for Williamson, the Jules Verne of the Camera World

Showing the wonderful system of getting moving pictures under water.

ERNEST L. WILLAMSON.

BY GERTRUDE M. PRICE,
The Journal's Moving Picture Expert.

MOVING PICTURES TAKEN DEEP, DOWN UNDER THIS SEA!

It's not a dream. It's not a hope. It's not a possibility. It's a sure thing.

The public—the great, big "movie" public—that is growing larger each week is to have the chance to sit leisurely in a comfortable theater seat and watch the inhabitants of the deep sea MOVING, EATING, LIVING in their daily haunts!

It is to see the wonders of marine vegetation in its natural environment!

And it is to see, maybe, the remains of sunken Spanish galleys which went down in hurricanes long ago, while divers ransack for lost treasure.

Fish will play about before the human eye at a depth of 500 feet below the surface!

Sharks will fly past. Hideous devil fish will writhe through the water. Strange shapes, never seen before in their natal element, will peer out from among seaweed.

All this is practicable because Ernest L. Williamson, Norfolk, Va., the Jules Verne of the camera field, has discovered how to take pictures under water!

Here he is. And here is the way his machine looks and works.

He has already taken excellent submarine pictures at a depth of thirty-five feet, demonstrating the feasibility of his system.

The secret of this new wonder of the cinematagraph is the Williamson submarine tube invented by the camera man himself.

It is a remarkable invention which makes it possible for men to go 500 feet down under water without diving suits or any special breathing apparatus.

It is just like going down into a tunnel. The tube is flexible and can be extended at will. It is simple in construction and is strong enough to withstand tremendous water pressure.

At the bottom of the tube there is a chamber large enough for three men to live and work in for hours at a time. The front of it is curved and fitted with a large window through which all observations are made and the actual photographs taken.

To offset the darkness which grows as the depth of the water increases Williamson has cleverly brought electricity into his aid.

By lowering a group of electric lights, properly safeguarded against pressure, into the water, he can take pictures at any depth, day or night. He has found that such artificial light, far from disturbing the fishes and their friends, attracts them toward the camera.

There is no end to the possibilities of this new invention!

Young Williamson has been experimenting at Hampton Roads. He has been so successful that he will continue further afield and on a larger scale. His next work will be cruising the West Indies with a "movie" camera and his Williamson tube. He hopes to get pictures of the "sunken cities of Yucatan" and many other wonders.

GEORGIA AND HER POLITICS

Rome Tribune-Herald Takes Friendly "Dig" at Representative Barry Wright.

From time immemorial it has right to change her mind has been conceded to be one of a woman's prerogatives. And no one can gainsay the fact that a woman has the right to change her husband's mind—provided she is able to do so.

This brief acknowledgment of woman's rights is by way of an introduction to a good-natured editorial "dig" which the Rome Tribune-Herald takes at Representative Barry Wright, of Floyd, concerning his support of the woman's lawyer bill in the house. Says the Tribune-Herald:

"Representative Barry Wright of Floyd led the fight for the bill permitting women to practice law in Georgia. The Tribune-Herald notes with great satisfaction the improvement that his recent marriage has wrought in this young man. Next thing we know he will be advocating equal suffrage."

Mr. Wright's position on woman suffrage is unknown to the writer, but if the advocates of this cause have gained his support they have indeed captured one who will prove a valuable ally, for Mr. Wright is a strong speaker and has one whose influence is rapidly increasing.

Convention of County Commissioners Is Advocated by Echols of Newton.

J. H. Echols, of Covington, a member of the board of commissioners for Newton county, strongly advocates an annual convention of the county commissioners of Georgia.

Mr. Echols believes that such a convention will result in great benefits to the counties of the state, especially the rural counties. He is of the opinion that the exchange of views and the discussion of county problems would be productive of immediate results.

It is suggested by Mr. Echols that such a convention be arranged and that competent speakers be named to discuss taxation, road building, convict camps, jails, finances and other subjects of interest to the county authorities.

Mr. Echols' suggestions are heartily approved by the state prison commission and the various county commissioners who have been approached on the subject.

Would Suspend Schools for a Year to Get State of Georgia Out of Debt.

A rather unique plan for relieving the state's financial distress and providing for the prompt pay of the school teachers is offered by the Columbia Sentinel, which proposes that the public schools of the state be suspended for a year.

This would enable the state to have a year's appropriation saved, says the Sentinel, and then the teachers could receive their pay promptly every month. This would stop the continual cry about the payment of teachers, and to our mind is the very best solution of the question of paying the teachers."

The above suggestion is at least an original one, but one which is hardly likely to meet with an enthusiastic reception from the people of the state. It would be just as reasonable to propose that the state house be closed and business in all government departments suspended; that the payment of pensions be stopped; that the state university and all its branches, the state sanitarium, the *penitentiary and other in*stitutions go out of business for a year.

There is no doubt that such a plan would enable the state to catch up with its debts, but who among its citizens would favor such a policy?

One Other Liquor Bill With Senate Committee.

Liquor legislation in the state senate has been about half-and-half as far as reports go to date. One bill in favor of further prohibition has been passed, another has been killed, and a third is still in the hands of the temperance committee.

The bill passed was the Hixon-Searcy measure making it unlawful to ship liquor for illegal purposes into Georgia; the bill killed was that of Senator Searcy providing that one party who buys liquor from a blind tiger for another party shall be equally guilty with the seller.

The bill prohibits the advertisements of spirituous liquors in the press of the state. The committee has taken no action on it as yet. Its author is Senator Searcy.

Senate Committee Favors Fourth Atlanta Judgeship.

The house bill of Messrs. Cochran, Smith and Blackburn, which provides a fourth judgeship for the superior court in the Atlanta circuit was favorably upon favorably by the general judiciary committee of the state senate Friday afternoon.

This measure passed the house, was reported favorably in the senate, and was recommitted at the request of Senator G. M. Hulle of the Thirty-first, who said that he wanted to look over the bill, which concerned his district so much, before he passed on its merits.

Senator Hulle was present at the hearing Friday and satisfied the bill was a worthy one, put his o. k. on it. It comes up for action by the senate early next week.

Ducktown Case May Be Acted on at Session.

The dispute between certain citizens of north Georgia and the Tennessee Coal and Iron company, known as the Ducktown case, has been before the general judiciary committee of the state senate, and a bill providing for a commission to settle the differences has been reported favorably.

John D. Little, former speaker of the house and attorney for the Copper company, appeared before the committee Friday to urge a favorable report on the bill.

The Ducktown case has been up before the legislature time and time again, but it has never been permanently disposed of. The friends of the present measure hope to get it through both houses of the assembly this term.

Noted Florida Solon Visits Georgia Legislature

The man who put the Florida race tracks out of business, D. H. Sloan, of Lakeland, former state senator and author of the Florida anti-race track law, is in Atlanta on his way by automobile with his family to Asheville, N. C. He called upon the Georgia legislature for a few moments Saturday while it was in session at the capitol. He will continue his journey to Asheville, Monday.

In addition to writing the race track law, Mr. Sloan fostered the Florida statute which regulates the sale of narcotics and in a way prohibits it, and which is very similar to the Georgia law on that subject. Also he was allied with the interests which sought to abolish the convict lease system in Florida. He is a strong progressive Democrat and is a fellow townsman and the present Florida governor, Park Trammell.

SALARY OF $5,000 FOR JUDGES IS RECOMMENDED

House Committee Reports Favorably on Bill—Norwood County Killed

A bill introduced by Representative Wallace Miller, of Bibb, providing for a salary of $5,000 for all superior court judges in the state of Georgia, went to the house Saturday morning with the recommendation that it "do pass." Such was the action taken by general judiciary committee No. 1 of the house Friday afternoon.

With the exception of Atlanta where such judges now receive that compensation, all other circuits pay but $3,000.

The bill, if passed, affects only judges chosen after the enactment of the measure. Those serving now must finish their term before profiting by the proposed raise.

NORWOOD COUNTY KILLED.

Norwood county, the last of the welter of new county propositions to come before the house committee on amendments to the constitution, was killed at the session of that body Friday afternoon by a unanimous vote against its creation. The bill was accordingly reported to the house Saturday morning with the recommendation that it do not pass.

The proposed new county named Pearson as its center, and was to have been created from parts of Clinch and Coffee counties. There seemed to be little interest manifested on either side of the question. The usual large number of delegates that have filled the house chamber on these occasions were absent.

PLAN CONCERT EVERY SUNDAY OF NEXT YEAR

Music Association Confers With Auditorium Committee of City Council

Plans for a continuous series of concerts on Sunday afternoons next year were discussed Friday at a joint meeting of the aditorium committee of council and members of the Music Festival association.

V. H. Kriegshaber, of the Musical Festival association, urged the formation of some plan whereby fifty-two concerts may be given, saying that when the concerts are interrupted it causes loss of interest on the part of the public. Mr. Kriegshaber said that during the year past it was possible to give only thirty-five concerts, because other things were allowed to interfere with them, while all the time the city organist was receiving a salary of $4,000.

Members of the auditorium committee decided that the Music Festival association could work out the best plan and the matter was referred to the association.

HOUSE BREAKS RECORD FOR DULL SESSIONS

A mere handfull of the members of the house spent Saturday morning in the first reading of house bills and the passage of house and senate bills. Ten bills were introduced, fourteen house bills passed and fifteen senate bills were ready for the signature of the governor.

Adjournment was had until 11 o'clock Monday morning in less than an hour after the house convened.

SLATON'S FIRST PARDON IS GRANTED TO A WOMAN

He Allows Mrs. Lula Berbig to Return Home to Mississippi

Governor Slaton granted his first pardon Saturday morning and it was to a woman. This woman, Mrs. Lula Berbig, was in the Fulton county jail serving two sentences aggregating nine months. On June 11 she pleaded guilty in the city criminal court to two charges, one of disorderly conduct and the other of conducting a disorderly house.

On the first-named charge she was given three months or a fine of $25 and on the second she was sentenced to four months or a fine of $50. She was unable to pay the fines and went to jail.

Her mother has recently died, her father is in feeble health and she has two small children in Meridian, Miss., to whom she wishes to go.

Both Judge A. E. Calhoun and Solicitor Lowry Arnold, of the city court, recommended the pardon, as did the state prison commission. In issuing the pardon Governor Slaton wrote the following memoranda in the record:

"The mother of this woman has just died in Morgan City, Miss. Her father is in poor health. Charitable people have raised the money to buy her a ticket to see her father and to return to his aid. Justice is not imperilled by clemency. The judge thought she could pay a fine, but being without any funds she has been in jail nearly two months. The recommendation is approved. This, July 26, 1913.

"JOHN M. SLATON,
"Governor."

HE'S GOING TO PADDLE A CANOE ALONE ALL THE WAY FROM NEW YORK TO SAN FRANCISCO

Speaking of summer vacations and canoe trips and such, here's a city-weary man who is taking a summer vacation of twelve months consisting of a canoe trip 'steen thousand miles long.

He has started to paddle from New York City to San Francisco via the Great Lakes, the Mississippi, the Gulf of Mexico, the Panama canal and the Pacific ocean. And it will be one long summer outing, because he'll be so far south next winter that there won't be any winter.

That's going some, even for the huskiest of canoeists. But John H. Sullivan, Jr., twenty-six, soldier of fortune, water color artist, short story writer, self-admitted gunman of the western variety, also expert stage mechanic and electrician, and lover of all outdoors is undismayed by all the millions of paddle strokes he'll have to take before his voyage ends.

He just tired of New York and civilization in general and had to get into the open for a while.

"New York," he said, "is a desert of 5,000,000 souls.

"I have been in Death Valley and have enjoyed it. I have been on mountain tops and felt at home. I have paddled alone through interminable Canadian forests and ridden for days on the alkali plains of New Mexico. But never have I been so lonesome as in this town.

J. H. SULLIVAN, JR., AND HIS CANOE

"I walked up and down Broadway for hours the other night, and not a soul spoke to me. I'm going to beat it to a real country."

Next day he took his sixteen-foot canoe—the same canoe in which he navigated the streets of Peru, Ind., and saved lives in the spring flood—filled it with clothes, grub, guns, half-finished water color sketches, tobacco, shaving materials and other necessaries of life, jumped in, blew a blast on a little bugle, gave a powerful sweep of the paddle, and was on his way.

He goes up the Hudson to Albany, then via the Erie canal and Great Lakes to Chicago, through the drainage canal to the Mississippi river, then down the Mississippi to New Orleans and by inland lagoons to Galveston. Then he expects to paddle down the coast of Mexico and Central America to Panama, through the canal and up the Pacific coast to Frisco.

"By nature I'm a hobo," says Sullivan. "I'm going to have one grand little time."

BIG STRIKE IS AVERTED BY EASTERN RAILROADS

Withdraw Demand That Grievances Against Employes Go Before U. S. Board

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 26.—The eastern railroads today withdrew their demand that their grievances against the employes should be considered by the federal board, appointed to arbitrate the demand for better wages and working conditions, demanded by the conductors and trainmen.

This concession apparently removed the only remaining obstacle to arbitration and averted a strike. With this issue disposed of the railroad managers and the labor leaders expected to reach a speedy agreement upon the text of the questions to be laid before the board of arbitration. In a statement explaining their position the managers said they made this concession because they felt it was their duty to protect the traveling public.

ONLY POINT WON.

The only point won by the railroads was an agreement that the decision of the arbitrators should become effective October instead of being retroactive.

The managers' decision was announced after they had spent the morning in consultation by telephone and telegraph with the presidents of their roads. It was announced in the form of a letter addressed to the board of mediation and conciliation. The letter said:

"To preclude the possibility of another crisis such as this arising when the railroads should desire to have considered important questions relative to the pay and the working coditions of conductors and trainmen, the conference committee of managers on July 16 announced that in the interest of the public as a whole these mattters—which were given in detail—should be passed upon by the board which would arbitrate the demands of the conductors and trainmen for increases in pay.

"The managers committee has never refused to arbitrate the demands of the men under the provisions of the Newlands act, but they thought that in all fairness that the matters the railroads desired passed upon should be considered at the same time. They presented a question of inequit and excessive wages that the railroads feit should be corected.

TURN DOWN U. S. BOARD.

"The right to include these in the agreement to arbitrate was denied by the men; they also declined to let the United States board of mediation and conciliation decide whether these matters should be arbitrated; they then refused the suggestion of the railroads to arbitrate the qestionu of the introduction of these matters, and announced hat nuless the railroads withdrew their requests a strike would be called.

"It is evident that the conductors and trainmen's organizations would go to the full extent of subjecting the companies to the calamity that a strike on the eastern railroads would cause arthur than have all matters pertaining to the questions at issue submitted to fair and comprehensive arbitration.

"The railroads must protect the public. Therefore, they waive their right to incldeu their requests in the articles of the agreement to arbitrate at this time without prejudice to any other rights of the railroads."

JAPAN NEWSPAPERS URGE OPPORTUNITY IN MEXICO

Declare Government in Dealing With U. S. Should Use Mexic Friendliness

TOKIO, Japan, July 26.—Some of the leading newspapers today accuse the Japanese cabinet of lack of diplomatic adroitness in negotiations over the California allen land ownership legislation. They urge that advantage should be taken of Mexico's friendliness. They question the sincerity of the United States.

M. Hashimeto, vice minister of commerce, made this statement today in connection with Japanese participation in the Panama-Pacific exposition:

"The authorities understand that it is reasonable for Japanese merchants to refuse to exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition owing to their natural resentment against the allen land ownership bill, but thought participation would ease the situation and the Japanese government hopes that the nation will send as many exhibits as possible."

BRYAN DISCUSSES HIS PLANS FOR NICARAGUA

No Conclusions Reached, However, in Executive Session of Foreign Relations Committee

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Secretary Bryan had another executive session with the senate foreign relations committee today over the proposed Nicaraguan protectorate but it was said no conclusions were reached. A special session of the committee will take place Tuesday, when Secretary Bryan appears again.

Mr. Bryan, with President Wilson's approval, is pressing for ratification of a treaty by which, in return for a payment of $3,000,000, Nicmaragua would grant to the United States exclusive rights to an inter-oceanic canal route and naval base in the bay of Fonseca; and the United States would assume the same relations to Nicaragua as it has with Cuba under the so-called Platt amendment.

Tuesday Secretary Bryan probably will present a completed draft of the proposed treaty embracing a number of changes in the portion modeled after the Platt amendment. While the committee did not act definitely today the attitude of the senators expressed during the meeting indicated that the project would receive definite approval when submitted in completed form next week.

Secretary Bryan and Chairman Bacon had a private consultation but both declined to say whether it bore on Mexican affairs.

Parcel Post Rates.

Postmaster General Burleson seems fully to have sustained the wisdom as well as the authority of his order reducing parcel post rates for rural routes and short distances. Challenged by certain Congressmen as to his right to make these reductions he appeared before the Senate postoffice committee and came away, as The Journal's Washington correspondent says, "with flying colors." Senator Hoke Smith, a member of the committee, is quoted as remarking that the new order "will greatly facilitate the use of the parcel post, will lessen the cost to the people from one-third to one-half and that before the postmaster general can be interfered with in this matter, the law must be repealed."

Some of the railroads appeared somewhat disturbed when it was announced that the maximum weight now allowed for parcels to be delivered within the one hundred and fifty mile zone would be increased from eleven to twenty pounds and that at the same time the charges on such parcels would be reduced. The carriers figured that this would entail upon them an extra burden without extra pay. But the general public welcomed the announcement with enthusiasm; certain it is that whatever criticism of the order may have developed in Congress did not spring from a popular source.

The reduced rates and more liberal provisions will obviously benefit the public and, in the long run, they will benefit the postal department as well. For, it is evident that increased business will mean increased revenues, under a competent administration. The more parcel post stamps the government can sell the more profitable the service will be to the postoffice. The important thing is, of course, that this service be furnished at the lowest reasonable cost to the public. It was eminently proper that the postmaster general reduce the charges when he felt warranted in doing so.

The present scale of rates within so-called "local" zones is five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound; the maximum weight allowed is eleven pounds. The new rate for "local" zones will be five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional two pounds; at the same time the maximum weight will be increased to twenty pounds. For the second zone, which comprises territory within a hundred-and-fifty mile radius, the present charges are six cents for the first pound and four cents for every additional pound. This rate is to be lowered to five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound; in this zone also a maximum of twenty pounds to the parcel will be allowed.

The new order, which becomes effective August the fifteenth, will considerably extend the usefulness of the parcel post. Many parcels which because of their weight can now be sent only by express may be mailed and the reduced rates also will offer a distinct advantage.

The postoffice administration has effected a number of improvements in the parcel post service and will doubtless effect many more that experience will suggest and circumstances permit. Instead of being hindered or interrupted in this good work, it should be heartily encouraged.

Atlanta's Year-Around Exposition.

There is cause for keen and far-reaching satisfaction in the announcement that plans have been perfected for a permanent exhibit of Atlanta-made goods. Quarters for this enterprise have been secured in the new Chamber of Commerce building which, it is expected, will be ready for occupancy within the next six months. Representative manufactures, continually extending and upbuilding Atlanta's industry and trade, will be displayed. It will enthusiasm, realizing, as they do, it will be a quickening influence for the city's entire business life as well for industrial interests. There is every assurance of a great number and variety of exhibits in the very outset.

The Chamber of Commerce building offers an ideal location for such an exposition. Situated at the corner of Auburn avenue and Pryor street, it is easily accessible from railway stations and hotels. Visitors to the city will thus be enabled to inspect the exhibits with no inconvenience and with little loss of time. Besides this, the interests of the manufacturers and of the Chamber of Commerce are at many points identical. It was the Chamber that initiated and sponsored the exposition idea. The two will naturally work hand in hand.

The building that is now being remodeled and, indeed, made virtually new for the Chamber of Commerce will be one of the most spacious and modernly equipped structures of its kind in the city. Its facilities for the exhibits will be ample for a number of years at least, though in time no doubt this enterprise will require a building exclusively its own.

The permanent exposition is certain to become one of Atlanta's most popular resorts. It will attract merchants and travelers from every part of the South, for, it will be distinctly worth seeing. It will be a standing advertisement for the city's manufacture, continually extending and upbuilding Atlanta's industry and trade.

Lo, the Rich Indian.

Secretary of the Interior Lane makes the wise suggestion that the Government gradually cease its policy of paternalism toward the American Indians, leaving them free, as a race and as individuals to follow their own bent and work out their own fortunes. Some decades ago such a proposal would have been ill-considered, but today it enlists widespread and merited approval.

The Red Man of this generation is as far removed from the "poor Indian," of Pope's conception as a Henry James novel from a Leather Stocking tale. Of the three hundred thousand Indians on federal reservations, fewer than ten per cent are still primitive in the manner of living; and those are so largely because they have been treated as segregated tribes rather than as individuals. Many, if not a majority, of the Indians on reservations are adjusting themselves to twentieth-century life. They are learning the use of tools, the ways of commerce and industry; they farm and trade and, when educated, they easily earn a respected place among Americans at large.

The Indians, taken as a whole, are the richest people per capita on the earth. The Osage tribe, numbering some twenty-two hundred persons are the joint owners of nearly two million acres of rich farming land. Their property is now being turned over to them as individuals. Their "ready-money" funds, according to Mr. Haskins, amounted to nearly nine million dollars. "Under the law," he says, "each Indian has been permitted to take four hundred and eighty acres of land and has been given nearly four thousand dollars in cash.

Such a policy is manifestly wiser than that of holding the Indian in permanent tutelage. It would not do, of course, to remove the Government's protection and fostering care and protection all at once; but the more individual responsibility the Indian can be given the more surely and rapidly will he take his place among the nation's wealth producing citizens. In time, as Secretary Lane suggests, there should be no such institution as a government Indian bureau.

The Fear of Deciding

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

(Copyright, 1913, by Frank Crane.)

A young man wrote me the other day and after describing his circumstances asked me to tell him whether to go on in his present position or to accept a certain offer of another.

A woman called upon me, also, a tired, dereared looking woman, with her story of a husband who regularly got drunk and beat her, and of a son who was under the spell of a wicked siren. Would I please explain to her just what to do?

A man sixty-five years old wrote me stating he had been a bookkeeper all his life and now was breaking down. He needed a rest. Should he spend his little savings on a vacation, with the probability of losing his job, or should he continue at his desk?

A woman wrote me of her domestic problem and wanted to know if I would advise her to leave her husband.

I mention these things for a purpose. It is to show how prone we are to find some one upon whom we may shift the responsibility in life's crises.

We might go so far as to lay it down that responsibility is the thing people dread most of all. Yet it is the one thing in the world that develops us, gives us manhood or womanhood flure.

Because people shun responsibility they are willing to slump into routine clerkship and safe jobs, where they become mere machines. It is they who "get out and hustle," unafraid, who grow up with souls firm and sound.

The worst calamity that can befall a human being, perhaps, is a life position.

The virile characteristic of the Anglo-Saxon race is their willingness to accept responsibility. So they become pioneers, rulers, conquerors.

The last thing a weak personality wants to do is to decide.

Even in family and business affairs we reach out for some one to lean on.

Worst of all we continually seek to prevent our children from acting upon their own judgment and call them "good" when they run to us for every decision.

Children, on the contrary, should be trained to form their own opinions and to take the consequences of their own actions. To have a quick-acting, dependable judgment is better than a world of negative moralities.

Solve your own problems! Better solve them poorly than let another solve them well.

Let every tub stand on its own bottom! Don't lean.

Settle your own love affair or marriage perplexity. Fight out your own spiritual battle with doubt and superstition. Carry on your own business in your own way.

Don't be afraid! Fear means destruction. It makes the hand tremble and the mind waver.

Think over your situation. Decide on what you ought to do. You can never be certain it is right. You must weigh probabilities, which is all that the best of us can do.

Then go ahead, "trust in the Lord, and keep your powder dry."

Better play the man and fail than be a mouse and succeed.

Read the New Books

Of all critical fallacies none is more delusive than the claim that only the classics or the books of a bygone age are worth reading. If Emerson is to be taken seriously when he advises us never to read any book that is not a year old, he is strangely out of sympathy with literature. What would become of books if we all followed his advice? What incentive would there be to writing if we knew that what we write must remain in oblivion for that interminable period? Why should we not read new books, why should we not assist at the birth of writers, why should we not have the joy of discovering clever men, brilliant men, talented men and once in a while possibly a great mind and a great imagination?

In point of fact, it is the new books that count. The old books are assuredly ours for all time. They cannot escape us. From the new books that come and go we must select those that will last, and while we may again and again find ourselves mistaken, or perhaps deplore our transitory enthusiasm, we have, nevertheless, had the keen pleasure more than once of discerning and of being the contemporary of a great writer. We really feel that we have helped him, that we have inspired him, and that merely by reading him we have advanced his reputation and have pointed out to him the road to fame.

To read a new book that eventually lives is like reading a foreign writer in his own tongue. We find in him all the piquant flavor of the original that we know is denied to many. Some of us remember that when Stevenson began to write we were reading him, more of us recollect Kipling's first days and rejoice in the memory, and many of us envy those who lived when "Tom Jones," when Boswell's "Life of Johnson," when "Waverly," when "Childe Harold," when "Pickwick Papers," when "Vanity Fair" were new. Why, therefore, should we not be eager to read a book the very instant it comes from the press?—Boston Transcript.

Let Food be Your Medicine

Many of the most familiar fruits and vegetables have distinct medical values. The proper attention to the things we eat, then, will make them serve both the purposes of food and medicine, and will enable us to save some of the money spent on remedies and doctor bills. The following are some articles of diet which are known to have medicinal qualities:

Apples, carrots and Brazil nuts are excellent for sufferers from constipation.

Asparagus stimulates the kidneys.

Bananas are beneficial to sufferers from chest complaints.

Beets are fattening and good for people who want to put on flesh. So are potatoes.

Celery and onions are nerve tonics.

Cranberries are a stringent and correct the liver when it is suffering from inaction caused by overeating.

Dates are nourishing and also prevent constipation.

Grape juice is a laxative, but the skin and seeds are likely to cause constipation.

Lemon juice is excellent as a gargle for sore throat.

Lettuce has a soothing effect on the nerves and is excellent for sufferers from insomnia.

Onions are conducive to sleep. They quiet the nerves and are good for colds.

Parsnips, like sarsaparilla, are good for the blood and to tone up the system.

Tomatoes are good for a torpid liver, but they should be avoided by gouty people.

Water cress is an excellent blood purifier.

THE NEW RURAL SCHOOL

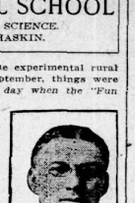
V.—SUGAR COATED SCIENCE.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

When the second session of the experimental rural school at Rock Hill began in September, things were quite different from that March day when the "Fun School" was first launched. It was autumn, not spring. The flowers were dying, not budding. And the children, coming from the farms instead of from the mill village and the college campus, were more shy. Furthermore, there were more of them, some of them were older—the first three grades benig represented—and most of them had already been to school and had their own ideas of what a school ought to be. Of course, they knew this school would be different, for their parents had talked of the radical action of the trustees in closing up their own school house and hiring a wagon to take all the children into the new school. But they were natural conservatives, and they had to be won over.



• • •

Having brought their old school books, and the state law requiring the use of certain adopted text books, there was nothing to do but to add the second reader and the progressive speller and even an arithmetic to the Mother Goose Rhymes and Fairy Tales on the big table. But still they were not used until after the nice, interesting story books had taken away all awe of a book as an enemy, and had made every child to know that a book is a friend. And the school books were not used at all except for helps—nobody was required to "learn" out of a book or to recite from one.

• • •

The children now were of various ages, one boy being as far along as the fifth grade. No classes were organized, but the children fell into natural groups arranged with respect to their advancement. And the older ones helped the young ones with reading while, marvelous word, the younger ones helped their elders in seeing closely, for their powers of observation had not been spoiled by even the slightest taint of a conventional education.

• • •

There were two girls, thirteen and fourteen years old, who had been to school two months a winter for several years, beginning when cotton picking was over in December and quitting when cotton planting began in March, for these were field working girls.

• • •

They were very shy, and when on the first morning the younger children ran romping from the wagon to the school house the two girls reproved them, and told them they were coming to school now and must behave. They were amazed when the teacher joined in the romp and led the school running toward the garden. They were horrified when the younger ones talked aloud in school. They didn't at all like the notion of playing games in school when it wasn't "recess," but in a few days their shyness had vanished and they were heart and soul in the fun of it all.

• • •

In the several school terms they had attended they had advanced to where they could spell out a few lessons in the second reader and they could say the "second line" of the multiplication table. That was all. They could not sew. They could not cook. They could do nothing but hoe and pick cotton.

• • •

To teach such girls as these, and their brothers like them, not only to read and to write, but to read and write to a purpose; and then to teach them useful and practical lessons in chemistry, in physics, in botany and zoology—that were merely a wonderful accomplishment for a year. The best practical proof of its success is that when cotton planting time came the parents of these two girls did not take them out of school, but let them go on because, they said, "They are learning so much that it would be a pity to stop them, and we can manage the planting somehow."

• • •

The garden is used not only to teach agriculture, but botany and chemistry as well. The kitchen stove is first of all introduced as an instrument for the demonstration of a lesson in physics—the effect of the draughts of air on the fire. It becomes a chemical laboratory when biscuits are baked, or tomatoes canned. The carpenter shop is a practical proving ground for mathematical accomplishments.

• • •

No seven-year-old child would ever remember, even if he understood, a lecture on pollenization of the corn flower, but the experiments of withholding the pollen from the corn silk proves to him, so that he can never forget it, the theory of the fertilization of the corn.

• • •

But it must not be imagined that such experiments were confined to corn. There were the potatoes. The children learned by comparison of blooms and fruits that the potato and the bull nettle belong to the same plant family, but first they noticed that both were beset by the pestiferous potato beetle. Later they found to their great surprise that the tomato was a cousin in the same family. Then they were prepared to hear, what they could not see, that all were related to the deadly night-shade. Coming to them in this way botany held the pure joy of original research and discovery.

• • •

The potato beetles had to be fought with poison, the plants were sprayed with Paris green. That brought in a bit of chemistry, but it also mightily interested the children in the beetles. A terrarium was one of the first bits of equipment added to the school. The boys made a shallow box and filled it with earth, and there they placed for observation and study every insect they could find, every larva and chrysalis. A plague of cotton caterpillars demolished the tiny cotton crop, but it added greatly to the store of knowledge gained from the terrarium.

• • •

Birds, too, were studied, and the children learned of the way the birds' bodies were made to facilitate flight, and why some birds walk and others hop. Birds and beetles were always discussed, however, from the economic and not the scientific angle. The first question was always: Is he our enemy or our friend? Then they learn that the lady bug is as friendly as the potato bog is unfriendly; they see with their own eyes how the angle worm helps loosen the soil to aid the plants to find food, while the cut worm destroys the young plants.

• • •

The liberal sciences are not neglected. The beginnings of orderly accounting are made when each child keeps a painstaking record of the day the peas were planted, the day they came up, the day they were first cultivated, how many times they were hoed, when the first bloom appeared, when the first peas were picked, and finally, how many peas were picked before the plants died and were destroyed. Also, what was done with the peas? How many pecks were there in the pod? How many pints, when they were hulled. How many were cooked at school? How many taken home? How many sold?

Out of the Mouths of Babes

"Did you see the fireworks when the Fourth of July was here?" asked one small boy of another.

"No," replied the other. "Papa believes in a sane Fourth, so he took me to see the waterforks instead."

Mamma—When that naughty little boy threw stones at you, why didn't you come to me instead of throwing them back?

Johnny (aged six)—Huh! What was the use. You couldn't hit the side of a barn.

Seeing the Stars and Stripes for the first time, little Fred, the son of a barber, asked what it was.

"That is the American flag, dear," replied his mother.

"Say," he queried, "did they make it outof papa's barber pole?"

Faltering memories is right, not to say meticulously accurate. We never were one to quibble (Help!) but our version of John Payne's rondel has it "sweetheart," which makes the acanstion correct, and the punctuation varies from the Payne copy, too. The dash between "you" and "and" is, we imagine, Miss Abbott's embellishment—the dash being a feminine possession.

"I wonder what's the celebration about?" asked one of our party. "Why, they're celebrating the Glorious Fourth," we answered in chorus. (One's patriotism increases as the square of the distance from home.) "No, sir; no, sir," bristled up the Englishman in the crowd. "we Englishmen never celebrate that day!" This, of course, gave us an opening at once for that hardy perennial: "Do they have the Fourth of July in Canada?" we queried blandly. "No, sir; no, sir; they haven't it in any of the British possessions, sir," barked our English friend. "Well," we drawled innocently, "what have they between the third and fifth up there?" "I know, sir," he insisted, "that we do not celebrate your national holiday in Canada, sir!"

DOWN IN WIREGRASS GEORGIA

BY REV. ALEX. W. BEALER

THE EXILE'S LAMENT.

I can hear the Southland calling
Through the sunshine and the rain;
On my heart her voice is falling
Like a musical refrain.

I can hear the pine trees sighing
From the rustling wire grass;
Through my mind sweet mem'ries flying
Wake the echoes as they pass.

I can hear the rippling waters
Dimpling o'er the snow white sand;
Like the smiles of Georgia's daughters,
Fairest women in the land.

I can hear the sedges singing
As they rustle in the wind,
And it sets the bells to ringing
In my reminiscent mind.

I can hear the wheels a grinding
Through the sand bed in the road,
Where the sleepy mules go winding,
Heedless of the driver's goad.

I can hear the mock-bird sending
From the bending tree top high,
Wanting music that is lending
Minstrelsy to earth and sky.

I can hear the Southland calling
Like an echo far away;
On my heart her voice is falling,
Gently wooing me today.

It is summer time down in the county of Dodge and the people are feeling good. The recent rains have brightened the prospects and from present indications we will make an average crop of corn and a cotton crop that will be far above the average. Our people have been in a panicky frame of mind because for the last two years the crops have gone back on them and many of them are in a bad fix from a financial standpoint, but the very seasonable rains of the present week have brightened up the drooping corn and have given assurances that the cotton will be all that the most optimistic could desire.

"MEETIN'" GOIN'S ON.

Watermelons are coming to town, the sure enough red hearted, black seeded fellows that we used to love so well in the days of boyhood, figs are ripening and yellow-legged chickens are in evidence on every side. Protracted meetings are going on and the fellow who wants to fare well goes out to hear the preaching and then to enjoy an old fashioned dinner on the grounds. Seining time is here and fishermen are "hieing" out to the creeks every day to return with long strings of all kinds of fish.

There is considerable baseball going on most of the time. Down here in Eastman we have a crack team that has won most of the games it has played and the majority of the people are crazy and yellow. All classes of people are as mad as those who live in the cities and who have a chance to watch the big league games. There is a big gap side will feel in the home boys that is missing from the people who watch the games in the cities.

THE WIRE GRASS DOPESTER.

Now and then you run across a wire grass dopester for one of the weekly papers who is a "bird," a rara avis when it comes to giving news and using good English. I ran over a column or two recently in one of the country papers and selected a striking notice of the death of a man which had taken place in the settlement. Here it is:

"Conductor Billie Blank, of No Name, died recently of heart failure. He married Miss Susie Simpkins, formerly of this city."

Here was another notice from the same paper:

"Mr. James Jimpson, of our neighboring city, died last Monday of complications aged seventy years. He was the father of the undertaker of this city."

WANDERING BR'ER JACKSON."

Not long ago Br'er Jackson, a member of one of the negro churches down in Wiregrass Georgia, shuffled of his mortal coil. He had not always led an exemplary life and his character was well known to the negroes of the community in which he lived. He was a member of one of the churches and the pastor wanted to be as charitable with him as possible. After submitting a few scattering remarks as to the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death he came to the personal application, and here is what he said:

"Now you all knowed Br'er Jackson. He was sometimes up and sometimes down but all de time he was a doin' de best he could to git to heaven. Lemme show you how. Tudder day I seed a drunk man gwine on todes home. One minnit he was in de rode, and den he struggled out to one side. He fell down crost a log but he ain't lay dar. He git up and wobbled back in de rode. Den he blundered out to the yudder side and I seed him a-tumblin over a stump. He git up an' here he come a windin' thu de bushes back to de rode, but mine you, all de time he was a gwine on todes home, sometimes up and sometimes down. Das dess de way hit was wid Br'er Jackson. He had a mighty way er wobblin' in de rode. Now an den he straggled out to one side and fell ober somer dese yere logs and stumps, a layin' round dis town. But ever time he come a wobblin' back, a blunderin' thru de bushes, straggiin' back wid his face pinted todes home. He done git dar at lass an' he ain' nurver gwine wander no mo, bless de Lo.. for dat.'

A mournful looking little African entered the drug store the other day with a large bottle of patent medicine in his hand. He asked for the proprietor and when he came, the negro, hat in hand, said:

"Boss, I come to ax you to tek back dishere medsin. I got it day befo yestiddy fer my old lady. She tuk three dostes ah' lass nite she up an' died, she tuck an' deceased. You see I ain't got no more use fur de medsin."

CARTERSVILLE PREPARES FOR REVIVAL SERVICES

Gypsy Smith, Bob Jones and John Callahan Will Be on Program

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., July 26.—August 3 marks the beginning of the annual tabernacle meeting to be held in this city. These meetings instituted by the late Sam Jones over twenty-five years ago have been revived and arrangements perfected to make the one this year a great one for all north Georgia.

Gypsy Smith will preach at each morning and night service during the entire meeting, which will last ten days. Gypsy Smith comes to Cartersville direct from London, arriving here August 2.

Associated with Gypsy Smith will be Bob Jones, of Montgomery, Ala.

John Callahan, of the McCauley Mission, New York, also will be here and have charge of one of the daily services each day.

Railroads have given special rates to Cartersville, and immense crowds will come to attend these meetings. The song services will be made a special feature of the meetings.

BIBLE SCHOOL WORK IS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

Plans on Foot in Inman Park Church to Secure Bigger Building Soon

The Baptist people of Inman Park are calling the attention of those interested in religious work by the rapid building up of their church, work and particularly the Bible school, in which there has been a remarkable increase in membership, and the general interest grows from week to week.

Under the efficient management of Superintendent S. McDaniel and Secretary Curtis Jackson, assisted by a corps of enthusiastic teachers, the school has more than quadrupled its attendance within the last three months.

The entire assembly, from the primary department, presided over by the Baraca class, was organized Sunday morning, and was a unit of enthusiastic and earnest effort.

It is the advantage of this school to have in its membership the state Sunday school secretary, Mr. George W. Andrews, whose purpose it is to reorganize the school on the graded system very shortly. Mr. Andrews, Mr. McDaniel and Mr. W. Lee Cutts, this newly-elected pastor, and the entire teaching force of the school are in sympathy in the purpose of raising the school to an A-1 position in the Bible school world.

The Inman Park Baptist church is fast becoming one of the livest institutions of the city. It is understood that negotiations are pending for the purchase of a more suitable lot in the neighborhood of the present location on which in the near future will be erected an edifice in keeping with the demands of a modern and progressive institutional church work.

One More Day in Rainy Montgomery and Then Off to Mobile

BENDER STANDS SHOW FOR THE AUTO TROPHY

Indian Flinger Has as Rival Only Eddie Plank and Walter Johnson—Ability to Work Is Main Asset

A local baseball favorite who is quite well known in Atlanta—Chief Albert Bender—now appears to stand a grand chance for the automobile offered the American league player doing his club the most service in the race for the American league pennant. Two other pitchers—Eddie Plank and Walter Johnson—appear do have the next best chance, and ere the race is run there will be much talk concerning the winner.

Last season Larry Doyle, of the New York Giants, and Joe Wood, of the Boston Americans, won the two trophies, while the year before it was Tyrus Cobb and Frank Schulte who came in for the rich prizes. It is not necessary that the honors go to members of pennant winning clubs, as often a player on a club a bit lower in the race will be a more valuable asset to his club in the fight it has made than any one member has been to the championship outfit.

The greatest value Bender has been to the Philadelphia Americans this season is in the relief end of the game. He has come to the rescue of young hurlers scores of times, besides taking a regular turn on the slab and taking a large majority of his games. He is the kind who is always willing and has a nerve of steel as well as a grand physique. All of this enables him to stand the gaff and go in day after day and turn out good ball.

IS WORKED OFTEN.

It has gotten to be a regular performance for Connie Mack to use Bender as often as four times each week. In this way he usually pitches some thirty innings of ball, and as yet he does not appear the least bit the worse for wear. And he never complains. He is out to bring a bag to Shibe park and if hard work and good hurling will turn the trick he will certainly have his reward.

To date this season Bender has won fifteen games and lost just five. This gives him an average of .750, which is good enough to head the pitching list in most any league. He is just a bit under Boehling, Johnson and Plank and before the season is over is most likely to have an even better average.

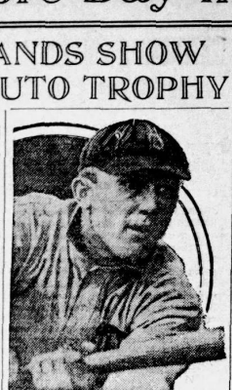
The twenty games in which Bender is credited with either a win or loss do not by any means show just how often he has worked. In some dozen games he has relieved hurlers and prevented further scoring and the hurler be relieved got credit for the win. Mack's team this year has several young hurlers on the staff and often they blow about midway the game and have to have relief and that is just where Bender is shining. He fills in the gap every time a man blows.

One of Bender's greatest asets this season is his remarkable condition. In 1912 he did not behave himself the best in the world and was unable to do his best work but this year it is a different tale. He is in grand shape and work does not phase him.

JOHNSON HAS CHANCE.

Walter Johnson, of the Washington club, doubtless stands a much better chance of taking the big honors than Eddie Plank, the Mackman. Johnson is with an inferior club and for this reason is forced to hurl far better ball to win. He is a most willing worker as his twenty-one wins will show, this being the largest number amassed by any American league flinger. With his twenty-one wins go five defats. Figuring that Johnson is with a team that doubtless won't finish any better than third he is about as valuable to his club as Bender and surely stands a chance for the win.

Eddie Plank, though old at the game, is this year hurling most consistent ball. He is winning most every time out but could stand to pitch any oftener than every fifth day. This inability to go on the slab any old time hurts his chances for the trophy. However, he has fourteen wins and four defeats and will be figured in the final standing.



TY COBB,

Rain Killed Double Bill

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 26.—Again the Cracker-Billiken fray was spoiled by rain. This time it was two games that were pushed off the boards, and they will not be played off, this being Atlanta's last visit there.

After one inning of the first game the rain came down and time had to be called. After the usual thirty minute wait the game was called off for good, and after thirty more minutes the second game was also postponed.

There was, however, plenty of baseball in one inning that was played, as each team scored twice, tieing things up tightly.

In the first half Agler walked and was sacrificed to second by Bisland. Welchonce chimed in with one of his screaming line drives between right and center, scoring Agler ahead of him. Long was then pinked by Brown, and Smith and Alpman were easy outs.

In their half, the Billikens got busy also. Manning went out, Then Clark walked Wares and Elwert tripled, scoring him. Clark then fanned Sloan, but allowed Jantzen a single, which tied the score up.

In Two Games With Dobbers; Brown to Work

Crackers Move Over to Mobile After Double Bill With the Team Which Now Leads, Clarke and Conzelman

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 26.—Rained out for two days, a final desperate effort will be made by the Montgomery and Atlanta teams to play a farewell double-header this afternoon. The weather is still slightly threatening, but has cleared up somewhat.

Manager Dobbs announced that he will use E. Brown and Donohue in the first game and Manning and Gribben in the second. The battery work for the visitors will probably be done by Clarke and Dunn in the first and Conzelman and Chapman in the second game.

From here the Atlanta team journeys to Mobile for a four-game fray with the Gulls. The Gulls are only 2 1-2 games ahead of the Crackers in the race for second place.

STARS OF ONE DAY

Johnston, of Cleveland, had an unsuccessful day in four trials at bat.

Joe Jackson: Raised his batting average by rapping on three in five times up.

Tris Speaker: Was up four times and got one hit.

Dode Paskert: Could not connect safely, although he got five swings at the ball.

Johnston, of St. Louis: Was up six times in the fifteen-inning game and got two hits, one of them going for three sacks.

Derrill Pratt: Was up seevn times and hit safely twice ,one being a two-sacker.

E. Brown Sold For Big Price

The Montgomery ball club Friday sold Pitcher Elmer Brown to Brooklyn for $7,000, Outfielder Walker to the St. Louis Browns for $4,000 and Pitcher Manning to St. Louis for $2,500, or at any rate such is the report handed out from the Billiken stronghold. There is no denying the sales, yet the figures the three players brought might come in for a bit of dissecting before being taken as a report.

Elmer Brown is undoubtedly one of the very best hurlers in the Southern league, but when it is said he is sold for $7,000 that is putting the figures a bit high. It is very, very rare that a hurler brings such a large amount of cash and as Brown has not set the woods on fire this season, it is hardly probable that he would attract sufficient attention to bring such a wad.

Now if Brooklyn paid a good amount of the $7,000 in cash and paid up the difference in young players, it is different. Often a club will have several young players on hand and can afford to part with these men without any financial loss, as selling players is not such an easy job.

With a thorough trial, Brown should develop into a real good ball player. He has the goods and may prove another Nap Rucker. With Walker and Manning it is different. Neither has shown any great class in their work here this season, and it will be luck if they stick in the big tent their first year out.

HOW CLUBS PLAY TODAY

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 26.—Birmingham and Memphis will play the concluding game of the series at Red Elm park today. The locals have lost two of the three games scheduled and the visitors are fearful of adding three straight victories to their winning column by annexing today's contest.

Kissinger and Scahaugh for Memphis, and Evans and Mayer for Birmingham are the scheduled batteries. Weather clear and warm.

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—Nashville made its farewell appearance for the present season this afternoon, playing the locals a double-header.

Brenton, Walker and Wilson were the men from whom Manager Frank will select his pitchers, while Manager Schwartz will depend upon Beckenridge and Fleharty. Adams and Angermeir will divide the catching honors for the locals. Gibson working in both games for the visitors. The contests will be seven innings by agreement. The weather was clear and warm. but rain was predicted.

MOBILE, Ala., July 26.—Either Cavet or Hogg will be on the mound for Mobile in the last game of the Chattanooga series at Monroe field today. Schmidt will catch for Mobile. Sommers and Street will be the Chattanooga battery. The outlook for a game is unfavorable, as it is raining steadily.

TWO BOY CATCHERS WORTH $25,000; ATHLETICS AND WHITE SOX OWN 'EM

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 26.—Manager Holland, of the St. Joseph Western league club, Friday closed a deal whereby Fletcher Gaines, of the Chicago Americans, is to join the St. Joseph team August 1.

CATCHER SCHANG OF THE ATHLETICS.

CATCHER SCHALK OF THE WHITE SOX.

One of the rare occasions upon which Mack departed from his usual reticence was seen when he said, "Wondera," in referring to Catchers Schalk and Schang, of the White Sox and Athletics, respectively. Which is the better player remains to be seen.

These youngsters, playing their first season in the American league, are considered the greatest young backstops that ever broke into a major league. Were Comiskey or Mack offered $25,000 for their great youngsters they would not consider the tender seriously.

Schalk has caught a majority of the games played by his team this year. He is regarded by Comiskey as a second Buck Ewing.

In Schang, the Athletics have a boy who was under cover for two or three years. He cost Mack $500 as a class D performer and was farmed for experience.

Injuries to Thomas and Lapp this summer made it necessary to use Schang, and then the public saw what Mack knew—that in the boy the Athletics have another baseball wonder.

PENNANT HOPES GIVEN UP BY THE CHATTANOOGA CLAN

Refusal of Kid Elberfeld to Again Play Has Weakened the Club

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 26.—Unless Elberfeld returns to the game immediately local fans are ready to throw up the sponge so far as a pennant is concerned and will be eminently contented with a first division berth, however lowly. The Kid has promised repeatedly to appear at his old position or in right field, but he has failed to fill any of these promises to date and no one will now attempt to predict when he will appear on the field of battle. The Kid went in here ten days ago and laced out a single as a pinch hitter. Since that time he has improved rapidly and yet he has made no attempt to play, not even in the outfield.

With Dobbs crippled for pitchers, signs of internal dissension at Mobile, and Price suspended at Atlanta the locals would have an excellent chance with Elberfeld's stick in the fray, but with the present line-up the club is helpless against even ordinary hurling.

The acquisition of Walsh has not strengthened the team to any appreciable extent as Doe is not a heavy stickler in any sense of the word. As a fielder he may be slightly superior to Williams, who has been shifted to right, but the defensive play of the locals has never been at fault.

The hurlers are still going grandly but they are gradually weakening under the strain. In two games the Lookouts failed to scored a run behind Coveleskie and the support given the other hurlers has been but little better. With ordinary hitting behind him Coveleskie would not have lost more than two games during the entire season. It is feared locally that the Pole, who is extremely temperamental will become discouraged to a fatal degree over the continuous loss of deserved wins. The other hurlers are more than likely to be effected in the same way. In short, the Lookouts are out of it unless more hitting is secured at once.

Golfers Enter Payne Tourney

The competition for the J. Carroll Payne golf trophy will begin at East Lake on Saturday afternoon. Some seventy-five or eighty participants will take the field in the qualifying round at that time, and the play will then be scattered out until August 3.

The players will qualify according to their net scores ,and handicaps will prevail in match play. As many flights as fill will be played.

Allis-Wood Champ Match

Believed That Battle of 36 Holes for Championship Will Be Close

CHICAGO, July 26.—E. P. Allis, of Milwaukee, and Warren K. Wood, of Chicago, started the title match in the western golf championship shortly after 10 o'clock this morning.

Earlier in the week Wood would have been a favorite over the Milwaukean who twice has won the Wisconsin title and once has been champion of Harvard, but the high grade of golf the latter has displayed in his defeats of Champion Evans and Robert Gardner and the belief that the thirty-six hole struggle today would be one of the greatest in western golf.

Allis began to play golf at the age of five with his father as his tutor.

Allis' progress through the tournament has been the feature of the events, for he defeated Wood Saturday he will have won the championship by defeating two of the best golfers in America, Wood and Charles Evans, Jr., Western champion. Allis thus far has played consistently in par figures.

Allis took a lead on Gardner at the second hole. He had command of the match from the start. Gardner wild at times, and missed a number of chances.

The youthful Wisconsin player, though often in trouble, played out with the calmness of a veteran.

There was much trouble and conceding of holes in the first nine of the afternoon rounds. Gardner had the worst of the luck at the twenty-fifth. Allis placed a long putt six inches from the hole. Gardner stymied himself three feet back of Allis. He failed to jump it with his niblick, the ball rolling far from the cup.

Gardner played out handsomely at the twenty-ninth, when he got behind a tree, but the best he could get was halves, and all Allis had to do was to hold his lead. He was dormie six at the thirtieth, and took the match with another half on the thirty-first green.

Wood's match with Ledue was uneventful, except Wood made a 73, which is three under par for the course and the best round that has been made in the tournament. Wood played in the afternoon in figures apparently good enough to repeat the score, but the bye holes were not played. Allis has played several times in 36 holes and has a 73 to his credit.

COBB VS. JACKSON

Tyrus Cobb lost several points on Joe Jackson in Friday's game, Jackson increasing his average to .403, while Cobb remained at the .398 mark.

| Jackson.. | 90 | 329 | 69 | 129 | .403 |
| Cobb.. | 67 | 219 | 39 | 87 | .398 |

MEMPHIS SCRIBE CLAIMS CRACKERS ARE NOT IN IT

If the Crackers are going to win a pennant this year it's high time they were settling down to business, but judging from the conditions of various members of the team and from the slip-shod work the team uncorked yesterday it's a cinch that there will not be any flag-raising exercises in Billy Smith's lot next season.

More than one member of the team is on the ailing list. Several say they are suffering more or less from malaria and admit that they feel as much like playing ball as they do like moving a dozen pianos each afternoon.

That in itself would be bad enough to kill off pennant hopes, but a still greater menace seems to be hovering over Smith team and that is Smith himself. The strain of trying to keep his high-priced bunch of pastimers up in the lead is apparently telling on the hot-headed and impulsive Billy.

The way he shipped Price back to Atlanta yesterday following his failure to land the goods in the opening game is an example. His action in this case did not make a hit with his men. They are now saying anything, but just the same they can't forget the fact that Price has been one of the hardest working men Smith has had, and that his record as a pitcher is almost as good as that of Covaleskie, E. Brown and Conzelman.

Whether it is indifference or illness is hard to say, but certainly the team looked far from being a pennant contender in the game yesterday. The Turtles, downed a few weeks back for the cellar, played rings around them.—Memphis News-Scimiter.

McNeil Takes Big Marathon; Richards Quit

Texan Bursted Tire but Luckily Was Not Injured—McNeil Kept Up Great Pace All the Way—Glenn Winner

With the motor in his famous J. A. P. machine purring and sputtering for all it was worth, Jock McNeil piloted the big boat around the speed saucer for first place in the marathon race Friday night at Jack Prince's motordrome. His time was 19 minutes 17 4-5 seconds.

In many respects the marathon race was one of the most remarkable ever pulled off in the city, and the big crowd of about 8,000 that packed the place showed their appreciation of it. The management certainly deserves to have support after Friday night's performance. The entire bill was good, but the big marathon was a thrilling climax to it all.

Out of the ten riders entered six finished. From the crack of the starter's pistol the race was a speed war between Tex Richards, on his Indian, and Jock McNeil, on the J. A. P. he had sent to him from across the big pond. These two speed demons pulled away from the bunch and riding rim and rim at a frightful speed managed to lap the field in the first five miles. First McNeil, then Richards would forge ahead. Their old boats snorted and fumed and the big saucer fairly groaned as they spun around and around the boards. Both were riding like mad and not once did they lose sight of the $500 strip of bacon waiting for the winner at the finish. The machines were forced to the utmost and the speed tells the response they gave.

For eighteen miles the race continued thus, then with a swish and a hiss Tex glided his old Indian down off the war path with a flat rear tire. He had a narrow escape, and it can probably never be explained how he escaped without being hurt. It looked easy enough from the stands, but out on the track it was sure hard luck Richards had, the fickle goddess should have had a heart. There is no teling just what would have happened had Tex remained in the race. This much is certain that there would have been a finish such as the fan had never witnessed before.

RICHARDS GOES OUT.

With Richards out of McNeil had things all his way; he was leading the field by a good margin, and al he had to do was to sit steady and pour in the juice, and Jock is certainly one of the best we have at doing that. He was as steady as a clock from the start to the red flag.

George Lockner, who finished second, ran a pretty race. He finished only one lap behind McNeil and had anything happened to the Scotchman, George was right there waiting to romp in a winner.

Harry Schwartz was forced to quit in the first two miles, his machine going to the bad. Renel and Graves were forced to leave the boards about the middle of the race with engine trouble. Billy Shield and Freddie Luther were forced to leave but they patched up the trouble ,came back and finished.

The motordrome purse race was a good starter to the evening's fun and Friday night's finish in the fine of it between Richards and McNeil was the closest that has ever occured at the 'Drome. Handicap as it was, it separated the starters at the white line.

Prince's management gave the public all they could possibly ask. And the public in return showed that they were well pleased with the program. If Jack Prince will only continue his programs along the lines mapped out Friday night, he will have his 'Drome packed as it was then.

CHANGES FOR JUST A DAY

The only game of importance was the Federal league affair in which the Gulls lost out, leaving them one game behind Mobile and two and a half ahead of Atlanta.

Hoot Gibson game was played in the National. The Phillies lost that.

In the American the Athletics shut out the Tigers while the Naps won also. The Senators tied up with the Browns.

OL' MAM LINDY.
(A revery of the Twilight League.)

Ol' Mam Lindy came to me last night across my dreams—
Been nigh onto fifty years or longer still it seems
Since she took me in her arms where evein' shadows creep
And sung her old time songs to put a weary kid to sleep.

Ol' Mam Lindy came to me—a dream across the years—
Came to me and led me back beyond the League of Tears;
All my wrinkles faded out—gray hair turned to gold
When her old black withered hand led me as of old.

Back through fifty years of life—in a single dream—
By the meadows of the May—hillside and by stream—
By a cabin in the lane—cotton fields of white—
Back through fields of tangled bloom—out through lanes of light.

All day long she followed me—Ol' Mam Lindy did—
Keepin' close watch on the ways of a barefoot kid;
Kid that toddled through the grass or the driftin' snow
Where the apple blossoms fell fifty years ago.

And when twilight fluttered down—driftin' still and deep—

Though her withered hands were black as the starless night,
There ain't many God has made with a heart as white;
And when twilight gathers in, wearily I weep—
"Ol' Mam Lindy won't you come and put your kid to sleep!"

THE AYES HAVE IT.

Why not let J. McGraw and C. Mack stage their little argument about the 14th of August?

Why waste two perfectly good months in completing a schedule that has already accomplished its main purpose and is now merely a matter of form and custom?

THAT MUCH, ANYWAY.

"What has this Boehling got?" queries a pop-eyed bystander via the daily mails.

Well, eleven straight for one thing. And just beginning to pitch.

"All Boehling needs," writes an expert, "is more experience." How much can experience help an athlete good enough to go from April to August without a defeat? If they can't stop him inexperienced, what less could they do against him if he was imbued with all the rest of it?

A year ago today Pittsburg and Chicago were in the act of chopping away a New York margin of sixteen games. The margin is still there, but the chopping has ceased.

CONSIDERABLE COMBINATION.

Griff after all has the best pitching combination now in the game—not even barring that of Mathewson and Marquard or Bender and Plank.

He has one pitcher that no one can hit and another that no one can beat. If there are any other combination that can beat this, begin calling at once.

Now that Hans Wagner's uniform has been subpenaed for the Carnegie Museum and Mr. Zelder's bunion has about subsided, we are all set for the next outbreak. We have an idea that is about due from the general direction of the magnate who chased Frank Chance and now for the first time in his regime has a ball club floundering hopelessly out of it before July has passed.

As we understand it from gossip here and there, no ball club can hope to win a pennant without luck, and no ball club can have any luck until it starts winning. This should lead somewhere, although we have no idea in which direction.

Apparently it wasn't all Stahl. Jake has been cut adrift, but the Red Sox are still pointing in the same general direction, only at a trifle swifter pace.

Little Journeys to the Diamond
The Coacher

The coacher is the four-lunged element head off the shore of third who always sends the runner home when he should be held.

The coacher usually has a voice that combines the qualities of the siren whistle and the fog horn. He can run the gamut from high C sharp to the four lines below the scale.

Frequently when the coacher's voice grows husky he brings into play a series of arm and leg actions that would shame a first-class turkey trotter. Often he merely supplements his vocal calisthenics with bodily gymnastics.

Sometimes when the club owner has an army of scouts scouring the minors (season apparent) the manager goes and hires a brace of honest-to-goodness barnstorming comedians who execute various cute doings on the side lines until the umpire advises them to join a nickel show.

Frequently the coacher cavorts off the rim of first base and one of his favorite diversions is to sneak up close to the base line so the umpire will have to stop the fracas and shoo him back.

Often the coacher yells instructions and then crosses the hostile club by muttering with a leg sign.

"Come on, Dollyoleboy, put him over there," chirps the coacher. Then he proceeds to lift his left knee on high and tickle his nose with his toes at the same time, doubles up and walking an imaginary flea on his right ear.

All of which means that the batter is to disregard the order to bunt and take a bit of hit and run.

The player whose head is a fast talking factory always is stationed on the third base coaching line, where the tallies are polished off. This wise fellow is supposed to exercise excellent judgement in regard to sending runners home.

But any of the home patrons will tell you the coacher is a bonehead who either sends the runner home when he hasn't a chance to score or holds him when he could have reached the plate easily.

The coacher gets his when he goes to the bench and speaks his alibi to the manager. When his pals aren't getting on and the game drags, the coacher always deserts the coaching lines for a stand nearer the base, or addresses uncomplimentary remarks to the umpire, who immediately chases him to the bench.

Sometimes the umpires wise to the fact that Noisy John the coacher, is trying to get himself banished, refuse to put him out.

Jordan Takes Title As Wrestling Champ

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 26.—Chris Jordan, of Cleveland, last night won the middleweight wrestling title of the world by defeating Mike Yokel, of Salt Lake, former champion. Yokel got the first fall in 3 minutes and 45 seconds. The men then roughed each other for an hour and 33 minutes without a fall. Yokel was thrown from the mat heavily several times and after a hard tumble refused to come back on the mat again. The match was awarded to Jordan.

THIS TRADE CAUSED BIG UPROAR

The trade which carried Hal Chase, that peerless first baseman of the New York Americans, to the Chicago White Stockings has served to stir up a bit of excitement among the American league moguls. When the trade was pulled off there was but little said, but now Chance has put forth the claim that he was flim-flammed and has asked for an investigation, which has been refused by President Ban Johnson.

Chase was sent to the White Sox in exchange for Borton and Zeider, two White Sox infielders. They were both regarded as good ball players and were being used by Jimmy Callahan, but after being traded to New York Borton fell off in his hitting and had to be sold to the International league, while Zeider has been ill since going to the New Yorkers.

Frank Chance's claim is that the Chicago mogul knew all about Zeider's condition and Borton's inability to hit when he made the trade, and for this reason he calls it the working of the flim-flam game. Chase, on the other hand, comes back with a denial, stating that Chance asked for Borton and Zeider in exchange for Chase, and when he was stung at his own trade he became sore.

The transfer of Chase to Chicago has built up the White Stocking machine considerably and it now looks like a real championship outfit. Chase has added strength in every department of play and is hitting the ball as he did when he was referred to as "Peerless Hal," the king of all first sackers. He is just the man Callahan needed on his infield to steady Lord, Rath and Weaver, and now this infield is second only to the now famous McInnis, Collins, Baker, Barry combination. And it is not a long way back of this quartet.

Chase could not play ball in New York under Chance after having been a manager there, and the trade probably helped the Yankees even though they got the short end. Chance was endeavoring to use Chase at second and there he was not a star and was handicapped in his work. Zeider is rapidly coming around and will soon be able to play a good game, as he is a good player when in shape.

HAL C HASE.

BONES ARE BROKEN IN CATCHER'S FACE.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Catcher Agnew, of the St. Louis Americans, struck in the face by a pitched ball during yesterday's fifteen-inning game with Washington, was in a local hospital today, doing well, surgeons said. Some small bones of the face were fractured and concussion of the brain was feared last night.

Agnew will be out of the gave several weeks.

Morris Lands K. O.; Shows Clever Work

JOPLIN, Mo., July 26.—Carl Morris, the Oklahoma heavyweight, knocked out Al Benedict, of Brooklyn, in the fifth round of a scheduled fifteen-round fight here last night. Morris never was forced to exert himself, Benedict being at his mercy at all times and going into clinches in preferences to standing up and fighting.

In the second, third and fourth rounds Benedict received severe punishment and early in the fifth the Oklahoman sent him to the floor for the count of nine with a terrific right swing to the chin. When Benedict arose, Morris landed a right to the jaw which put him out.

Morris proved the better in-fighter and successfully blocked every effort of his opponent to land effectively.

Florida Wants Training Camp

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 26.—Next spring several of the big league teams will do their spring training in Florida. The Chicago Cubs are to go to Tampa, the Philadelphia Americans are coming to this city, and Miami is raising a fund of $5,000 to secure the Cincinnati Reds.

The plan being employed at the Magic City to raise the necessary funds is that of having ten men to deposit notes for $500 in one of the banks. The gate receipts for the exhibition games will be used to reimburse these men at the end of the training season.

The Cincinnati team has been mentioned, but the Miami fans are willing to take care of any big league aggregation which will wend its way southward. All they want is a look at a real, live ball player of the highest type.

ANOTHER COLLEGE STAR MAKES GOOD IN MAJORS

Dick Rudolph, of the Boston Braves, Learned First Art of Hurling While Starring at Fordham College

Richard Rudolph, the new pitcher of the Boston Nationals, is of medium stature and throws and bats right-handed. Dick is only twenty-four years old and will celebrate his next birthday in August.

There's an interesting story about the way Rudolph broke into professional baseball. As a youngster playing with the Morris High team in New York City he was a sensational twirler.

He went to Fordham college when he was a trifle over fourteen years old and immediately was made the first string pitcher. He was the sensation of the Fordham team in 1906, winning two shutouts over Holy Cross. Fordham's closest baseball rival, at a time when the mighty names of Barry, Carrigan, Hoey and Flynn appeared on the Holy Cross batting order.

BEATS YALE TEAM.

He also secured a win over Yale that year, and Fordham was ranked the best of the college teams.

Rudolph was first noticed by Ed Barrow, then president of the Toronto club, when he let down Holy Cross in the late spring of 1906, in Worcester, with one hit. Barrow had gone to Worcester to look over Barry, Carrigan and the other touted Holy Cross players.

He had little thought for Rudolph, but when the game was over he got a promise from Rudolph to report at the close of the college season to Toronto. Rudolph didn't do so much that year and his first real season of work was in 1907, when he won fourteen and lost seven games.

JOINS TORONTO.

Since then he has been with Toronto without a break, save in the fall of 1910 and in the early spring of 1911, when he was given a tryout by the New York Giants. In those six seasons that he pitched for Toronto he had an average of .642, which means that he won two out of every three games in which he started.

Mitchell, the veteran catcher of the Boston Braves, was with Toronto in 1907 and caught Rudolph, so that Dick is not without a friend on the Boston team. Tesreau went to the Giants along with Rudolph in the fall of 1910.

Both just barely dabbled in games, Rudolph appearing in two games, both against Boston, when one of them was won for the Giants and the other was easily tucked away as a victory for the Braves.

Both went back to Toronto in 1911, and, though Tesreau returned to the Giants at the close of the season, Rudolph's average for the season was better than that of the Ozark giant.

Ex-Clemson Star Is Proving Star

"Doc" Ezell, who was signed up this spring after the close of the Clemson baseball season by the Pittsburg Pirates, has been farmed to the Sioux City club, and is pitching good ball in the Western league.

Ezell was captain of last year's Clemson nine, and selected as the best of southern college pitchers. If Ezell improves under the tutelage of league managers, he will doubtless be back with the Pirates before many moons have rolled around.

Race Not Closed

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 26.—Holding that the two heats run yesterday at the Grand Circuit races in Fort Erie constituted a day's racing, Canadian authorities prevented conviction of the harness race meeting on that track. The Canadian law limits such racing to three days, and when the owner of the Fort Erie track served an injunction on the associaton, Secretary Neally declared the meeting closed.

According to Neally's announcement the first heat of each of the two races run yesterday before the rain interfered will stand and the purses will be divided in the order the horses finished. Del Rey gets the big end of the $5,000 Fort Erie purse, while the first money in the 2:09 pace goes to Billy M, a recent half-miler.

NEW YORK, July 26.—With cables below expectations and weather conditions southwest shaping for showers over Sunday, cotton opened under pressure. First prices were 1 to 5 points net lower. Some of the short cotton covered on the late rise yesterday was put again. At the end of the first hour the undertone was easy with new crop months 6 to 8 points below yesterday's close.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—Cotton futures opened steady, at a decline of 1 point to 1 point. Cables were slightly better than due, but selling was encouraged by rains in Texas, although trade pointed out that Texas had by no means received general rain or the moisture it really needed. The map showed important rains at only two or three points in that state, but private reports told of more. Selling pressure was not strong at the early opening and at the end of the first half hour of business prices were only 1 to 2 points under yesterday's close.

On the market had an easy undertone throughout the morning session. Private reports told of several bales of new cotton at many Texas points and said that picking would become general next week over a wide area. Bears did not make any great attempt to press their advantage, especially as the official weather report turns did not bear out private reports regarding rains in the west. The forecast was for local showers; reports noted rain along Texas stations and at only one station out of 30 in the Atlanta district. At the lowest of the morning the trading months were 6 to 9 points under yesterday's last figure. The market displayed the greatest weakness in the last 15 minutes of trading.

WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Quite general, but light, rains developed over much of the southwest, and again early Friday of this week, relieving the drouth in many parts of Texas and Oklahoma and promoting a selling movement by the local cotton market which put new crop positions below about the last level. It was considered doubtful, however, upon careful study of the detailed reports from Texas, if the big producing counties of that state had received sufficient moisture to fully restore the crop position to the three weeks' ago level, and as trade interests proved to be good buyers on the slumps, there was a quick upturn near the close today, which carried values "up handily" in as sure as time. It takes two seconds to start the bottom. This left the situation very much unsettled again and the week ended with traders apparently in doubt about the position of the Texas crop and facing a big short interest in the market which has been accumulating for the last three weeks or more since it became known that the southwest was likely to get at least some relief from the current drouth. Over the eastern belt showers prevailed almost the entire week with a drop in temperature of 10 to 20 degrees from the scorching weather noted at the close of last week, and crop reports indicate that it was also uniformly favorable. Activity in old crop months here finished contrary of the week's features. Following a sensational break in July at New Orleans early in the week, holders of August contracts at New York began to unload and finding little probability that Liverpool would take any cotton during the next month, abandoned their position, and the cotton coming on a scale rather forced the buyers, resulted in a break of 63 points, or about 500 points. In this connection it was understood that freight room for some 4,000 bales of new crop cotton that had been scheduled for shipment to Liverpool has been cancelled. The significance of these markets it was considered significant that March advanced in the local markets nearest the points of early movement and that July new wire on Friday said sellers were offering new basis for good middling, October-November delivery, at the price of October, New York. The Italian situation was also a factor in the week's uneasiness, although it apparently has not deterred Liverpool from being a good buyer of American cotton.

WORLD'S VISIBLE SUPPLY STATEMENT.

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton made up from special cable and telephonic advices compares the figures of this week with last week, last year and the year before. It shows a decrease for the week just closed of 171,088, against a decrease of 186,543 last year and a decrease of 111,798 year before last.

The total visible is 2,750,351, against 2,921,-287 last week, 2,648,244 last year and 1,846,-970 year before last. Of this total 1,247,351 American cotton is 1,426,351, against 1,582,387 last week, 1,741,244 last year and 1,194,970 year before last, and of all other kinds, including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 1,324,000, against 1,339,000 last week, 907,000 last year and 652,-000 year before last.

The total world's visible supply of cotton as above shows a decrease compared with last week of 171,088, a decrease compared with last year of 102,107 and an increase compared with year before last of 903,381.

Of the world's visible supply of cotton as above, there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 1,247,000, against 1,070,000 last year and 1,047,000 year before last; in Egypt 97,000, against 64,000 last year and 76,000 year before last; in India 500,000, against 555,000 last year and 498,000 year before last; and in the United States 266,000, against 393,000 last year and 229,000 year before last.

INTERESTING NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE MARKETS

Weather Reports, Crop Advices, Expert Opinions and Newspaper Comment

COTTON GOSSIP

Times-Democrat says: Spinners' takings for the week were larger than expected and August was befriended. For these reasons the cotton market behaved very nicely in the presence of bearish weather news. A clear sky in Texas and west Oklahoma, where cloudy weather was reported.

In the past very hot weather in west, when not continued too long without rain, has left no serious injury on the size of the crop. Rains are needed in the west now and the fact that the forecaster persistently promises rain for weather over that section of the belt keeps some of the talent on the cautious order. But should good rains come to the west in the near future, the big crop man would be in position to exploit big crop views in a strong way.

As a matter of fact August is now so far below a spot basis that it seems safe for bulls to take care of itself. Yesterday notices of intention to deliver 500 on August were issued in New Orleans. This cotton was taken up by July longs and represents the portion left after the July notices were issued. Some small but healthy gains were made in the west and the fact that the forecaster persistently promises rain for weather over that section of the belt keeps some of the talent on the cautious order. But should good rains come to the west in the near future, the big crop man would be in position to exploit big crop views in a strong way.

Special report of the Journal of Commerce indicates that cotton has improved generally in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi during the week, although some weeds are in small but healthy and growing state, rivaling fields well cultivated and kept clean, especially in west Mississippi. Georgia condition shows considerable improvement over last month and is now 80.4 to 76.4. Picking will begin about September 1. Mississippi condition has about held its own since last month, being 76.6 to 76.4. Picking will begin about September 1. STOCK QUOTATIONS.

Low Jones summary:

Howard Elliott will take office of New Haven as president of the Southern Pacific company to agree today. Mexicans condemn mediation plan. Electrolytic Copper interests. Steel and earnings expected to be smaller in second half of year than in first part. Tariff vote expected Sept. 1. Bonds firm. Sales (par value) estimated 20. Twenty rails advanced .24.

Stocks were little further, but on any weakness would increase holdings in stocks like Union Pacific, Copper, Reading and Steel. Hear Shipping will be in purchase for the long pull. Earnings are showing up well and Wall Street is in the best management and make it one of the big properties of the country.—Potter.

Would buy Brooklyn Rapid Transit; hear it is one of the best 6 per cent stocks on the list; hear it will secure a good advance next week.—Potter.

GRAIN GOSSIP

Bartlett, Frazier & Co. say:

Wheat—Liquidation continued favorable reports from the northwest are causing a great deal of local short selling and shutting off buying.

Corn—The market has been heavily sold during the past three days. Stop orders are getting out a great deal of liquidation. We think the market has had break enough.

Oats—Just like the rest, has been both heavy short selling and general liquidation.

Provisions—The market on the break yesterday was of a good character and largely by packers.

Peoria, Ill.—Complaints becoming more general through this section as to corn going into an amount of drouth.

F. W. Snow wires from Grand Forks, N. D., that the Journal's correspondent July 1 have been uniformly favorable for all parts of North Dakota and the wheat crop will show up much better than indicated by last government weekly bureau report. The total should reach 100,000,000 bushels of heads. Farmers look for next week and results of heads will be unusually good.

Grain belt forecast:

Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas, fair, cooler.

Iowa, showers, cooler; Dakotas, cloudy, cooler.

Ohio, Kentucky, Westbrook: Have returned to Omaha from trip through Nebraska and says corn from trip through Nebraska and says corn from the Missouri river westward is in fine shape. In South Platte country and valley of Grand Island in good shape but Platte west of Grand Island needs good rain. Northwest of Grand Island needs good rain. Northwest of Grand Island corn burning badly; needs rain badly for crop.

Finley Barrell has report from correspondent who visited 1,000 miles in Indiana and Ohio and estimates that the two states will produce about 80 per cent of last year's yield, produce about 90 per cent of 1911 yield. Grand Forks to Lokota crop below average. Grand Forks to Lokota crop below average. Leconit wires from Lokota crop below average. From Grand Forks to Lokota crop below average. Think wheat will make half a crop and 5 bushels to the acre. Expect the next two weeks more favorable weather to mature.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET WAS DULL BUT HIGHER

Union Pacific, Lehigh Valley, Reading, Southern Pacific and St. Paul Led

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 26.—There was no change of importance in the early dealings on the stock exchange today. Some of the active issues, including the Harriman and Hill stocks, made small gains, while Reading, Amalgamated Copper and Canadian Pacific declined as much. as a point. Trading was extremely light, in contrast to yesterday's early activity.

Prices showed some inclination to improve soon after the opening and trading became a trifle more active for a brief time. One point gains in Great Northern preferred, Northern Pacific and Lehigh Valley, a similar loss in Louisville and Nashville and a 3-point break in American Express were the only features. Closing firm.

Prices were maintained with some difficulty when moderate buying of Hill stocks abated. Union Pacific, Reading and Steel alternated fractionally under yesterday's final figures, then made some recovery toward the close.

Missouri Pacific was rather heavy. Closed firm.

WEEKLY STOCK REVIEW.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The week in the stock market was characterized by a general advance and a greater activity than at any time since the extreme dullness of early summer. Trading, however, continued largely professional in character and signs of outside public interest. As yet investment demand is negligible, but optimism prevails that this phase of the situation is working and much steady improvement.

Undoubtedly the most favorable feature of the situation is the greater ease of money here and abroad. Discounts at all important centers have declined materially and the financial week witnessed pronounced improvement in the condition of Europe's leading fiscal institutions.

The copper metal has improved, the metal being quoted on high as 16 cents per pound, against 14¾ cents a few days ago.

An excellent semi-annual statement by the Republic Iron and Steel company threw an interesting side light on conditions in the industry and gave rise to favorable estimates respecting the unfavorably quarterly statement of the United States Steel corporation, due next Tuesday.

Crop prospects have continued to sustain cereals but the total yield promises to be well above recent averages. Railroad earnings are beginning to reflect crop improvement although slacker business and reduced steel and iron tonnage serve as offsets.

JOURNAL WANT AD Horoscope

JULY 27.

One of the noted generals of history, Nathaniel Green, was born on this date, July 27, 1742.

This birthdate gives tremendous force of character, especially among men and the power to sway large numbers of people by oratory and literature.

All people born on this date come under the sign of Leo and are surrounded by solar fluids and draw to them planetary currents that often make them seem to glow with life. Actors and actresses of great emotional genius have been born under this sign.

The Leo born should marry late in life and will find their most congenial mates on the dates between November 22 and December 21 or between January 20 and February 19.

People seeking real estate purchases, the buying of building lots, the renting of flats, or summer cottages will do well, not only to read The Journal Want Ads daily, but advertise their wants in them.

Some Want Ads are inserted free in The Journal—see first Want Page. For charge ads, ask that they be sent for, or telephone them to Main 2000 or Atlanta 423.

A Tariff on Cotton Futures

If this bill is passed the foreign countries would dictate the price of our cotton altogether, and while they are now possibly our largest buyers they are forced to pay a better price for our products when they have the New York Cotton Exchange to compete with than they would pay otherwise. If the cotton exchange in New York was abandoned it would be a monopoly for the English spinners and they would get our products at almost their own price. We in this country do not know anything about the demand and consumption of our products. Therefore we would be at a loss to know whether we are producing too much or too little. But, as it is now every farmer in this country is practically satisfied with the present price cotton is bringing, and there is no crop on earth, taking everything into comparison, that will make as much money as the cotton crop of the south at the present price it is bringing.

The great trouble now lies in the labor we have to contend with, the poor land that is planted to cotton and the slipshod methods that are practiced throughout the entire south in taking care of our lands. The amount of cotton produced per acre and the cost of production depends altogether on the lands we cultivate and the per cent of profit to be made out of cotton is something enormous with inexperienced, unskilled labor if we would only take care of our lands the same as is done by the western farmers. It has been proven time and time again that on good land with good seed two bales of cotton can be made at the same cost that many are producing one-fourth to one-half bale for, the difference being the quality of land and seed and with the labor that the south has to contend with. With judgment and brains and by taking care of the lands our planters can make more money out of cotton at the present price than any crop that can be produced anywhere in the world. We have a monopoly at the present time and with the present prices fixed by the New York Cotton Exchange as they are, I believe if we southern people would let them alone and let matters stay as they are at present it would be the best thing for us to do.

The Clarke bill is up before congress and is being agitated, and every man in the south who is interested in cotton should wire or write our representatives in congress to fight this bill and do everything possible not to let it pass. If it should pass it would practically kill the New York Cotton Exchange, and with this exchange killed it would practically ruin our cotton market. Every community would then have to make a market of their own, and we would never know if we were getting what cotton was actually worth or not. If so no company or syndicate possible not to let it pass. If it should pass it would practically kill the New York Cotton Exchange, and with this exchange killed it would practically ruin our cotton market. Every community would then have to make a market of their own, and we would never know if we were getting what cotton was actually worth or not. If so no company or syndicate possible not enough capital to buy and hold enough spot cotton to make much showing in the amount that is produced, and the present system like it is now worked I believe would be hard to improve on. There is possibly no other one thing produced that has a staple every day value so near its actual uniform worth as cotton, and if this bill can be made to pass we can pass naturally it would add such a big expense to the operation of a cotton exchange and the men who use it that they could not afford to do business and eventually it would be abandoned. What would the people of this country who produce cotton and depend on it for a living do for a market if anything were to exchange or replace the present? Every person who produces cotton now does not worry himself at all about the market or the price that he receives. To get the cotton out and to market is the only thing the farmer has to worry about, and this cannot be said of many other crops that are produced. The class of people that produce cotton are almost as dependent as a new born babe if they were to take up the growing and marketing of other things as they know nothing else but cotton. Therefore, the present system is as near perfect and is so satisfactory that we should not desire it changed at all, and if enough pressure is brought to bear among the congressmen from the south to get them to fight the Clarke bill to such an extent that it will not be passed our country will be a lot better off than it is at present. A change of any kind at this present time would almost ruin this country, and we are not in a position to stand it. Let all matters connected with the New York Cotton Exchange stand as they now are, and if you have not already wired your congressman to fight the Clarke bill do so at once as I believe it will be worth millions of dollars to our cotton growing sections.

Yours very truly,

Long Ju Russell

LEO FRANK EXPECTS ACQUITTAL AND ASKS AN IMMEDIATE TRIAL

all of the many witnesses for Frank have been served with subpoenas and are ready to appear in the court room.

There will be no definite statement relative to the trial from Attorneys Luther Z. Rosser and Reuben R. Arnold, who represent Frank, until the clerk of the court calls the name of the defendant in the sensational murder case.

The attorneys for the defense are in constant conference, and apparently are completing the preparation of their case. While it was generally thought at the beginning of the present week that the counsel for the defense would be unwilling to go to trial at this time, the opinion of court attaches is changing, and unless some extraordinary motion is made, it now appears that the trial of Frank for the murder f Mary Phagan will actually commence in the superior court before Judge L. S. Roan on Monday at 9 o'clock.

Practically all of the 144 veniremen drawn for the case by Judge John T. Pendleton have been subpenaed, and a delay of the case at this time would put the state to considerable expense.

The work of subpenaing the witnesses is being pushed by the defense and it is expected that by Saturday evening every one of its witnesses will have been served.

COURT ROOM ARRANGED.

The court room on the first floor of the old city hall, where the Frank trial will be staged, has been completely rearranged under the direction of Deputy Sheriff Plennie Minor, who will have charge during the trial.

Benches, outside of the railing, have replaced chairs, and the court room now has a seating capacity of about 250. No spectators will be admitted after the seats have been filled.

Saturday morning electricians were installing half a dozen electric fans, which will help to make things comfortable for the judge, the jury and the lawyers in the case. Besides the fans a half a dozen ozonators were installed in the court room Saturday, and they they will help purify the air, which will naturally be stagnant after the crowds have been in the court room for an hour or so.

Judge L. S. Roan, who will preside at the trial, was in his chambers most of Saturday. While not in the best of health, Judge Roan has recovered from his recent attack of indigestion and expects to be on the bench Monday morning.

Solicitor General Dorsey on Saturday stated that his position with reference to the time of the trial has not changed. He is anxious that it come up on Monday, and is holding many witnesses in the city, who want to get away on their summer vacations.

The solicitor will fight any effort to delay the trial.

Newt Lee Denies Seeing Conley With Girl's Body

Attorney Bernard L. Chappell, counsel for Newt Lee, the negro night watchman at the National ePncil factory, gave out a statement Saturday afternoon in which he branded as false an alleged rumor to the effect that Newt Lee, when confronted by James Conley at the county jail the other day confessed to having seen Conley sarrying Mary Phagan's body into the factory basement.

Mr. Chappell states that accompanied by Attorney Reuben R. Arnold, of counsel for defense of Leo M. Frank, he went to the jail Saturday morning and asked Newt Lee regarding the alleged confession. Lee, says Mr. Chappell, declared that he had never said anything about having seen Conley with the body and also asserted that he did not remember ever to have seen Conley at all before he was brought to the jail.

AMBASSADOR WILSON SAYS U. S. COULDN'T FILL MEDIATOR ROLE

Del Valle also had a conference with Secretary Bryan, at which it was understood he submitted something in the nature of a report, or recommendation based upon his observations in Mexico. Whether it related to Ambassador Wilson was not established. Both he and Mr. Bryan declined to discuss it. It became known today that Del Valle came to Washington from Mexico on the same train and the same ship with Ambassador Wilson.

Del Valle is a former California state senator whose home is in Los Angeles. President Wilson recently stated he had received letters indirectly from him concerning conditions in Mexico. He is supposed to be Secretary Bryan's personal representative, but Mr. Bryan has not disclosed Del Valle's connection with the department.

"I was impressed," said Ambassador Wilson later, "with the receptiveness of Secretary Bryan and his breadth of view. Our interview was very pleasant and Mr. Bryan impressed me as not having reached any determination of the situation, but as desirous to know the facts."

The ambassador declared that at Mr. Bryan's request he had dictated today a resume of the situation. It took him four hours and in it he covered all the occurrences of importance in Mexico from the beginning of the revolution against Diaz. The ambassador said he had made no reference to remedies.

Mr. Wilson said he would ask the president to permit him to speak freely about the situation, as he believed the public was not generally informed.

Reports to State Department Confirm Torreon Capture

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Advices received at the state department today confirmed earlier reports of the capture of Torreon by constitutionalists under Governor Carranza. These reports had been denied from Mexico City. It was said the federalists continued their occupation of Meneleva.

Madera American Colony Has Not Been Molested

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The American colony in Madera, for whose safety much fear has been felt, has been unmolested and all is quiet there, according to a report by messenger from Madera to Chihuahua, which American Consul Letcher today wired the state department.

STATE PRISON TRUSTEE GUILTY OF MALFEASANCE

W. A. Montgomery, of Mississippi, Will Be Removed

(By Associated Press.)

JACKSON, Miss., July 26.—W. A. Montgomery, member of the prison board of trustees, was today found guilty of misfeasance in office by a jury in the Hinds county circuit court. The jury was given the case last night and returned its verdict this morning with a reccommendation for mercy.

Sentence will be pronounced later by Judge Henry. It is understood that he will assess a nominal fine and issue an order removing Montgomery from office.

Ties Sleeping Husband to Bed; Shoots Him and Then Herself

Young Woman Resents Cruel Treatment of Husband; Fires Four Bullets Into His Body; Lies Down Beside Him and Takes Own Life

(By Associated Press.)

TAMPA, Fla., July 26.—First tying him securely in bed as he lay asleep, Mrs. Avelina Rodriguez, a comely young Cuban woman, shot her husband to death at their home in the eastern part of the city this morning. When she saw his life had fled, she cut the bonds from his body and, stretching herself beside him, fired the remaining explaining the tragedy. Evidence gathered by the police indicates that the couple had frequent quarrels.

shot from the pistol into her own heart and was dead when neighbors rushed into the house.

The pair lay side by side and the slender ropes which still partly held Rodriguez's body to the bed and the pistol grasped in Mrs. Rodriguez's hand told the story.

The woman shot her husband four times. One ball went through his brain and the other three entered vital portions of the body.

Last week the woman had Rodriguez arrested on the charge of stealing money from her. Yesterday she secured his release on bond.
